DAILY GAZETTE.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Falling leaves everywhere.

—Victory for the American team again.

—Tweed is to return on a man o' war.

—Hunger stares the Turkish army in the face.

—A mysterious benefactor has given Harvard College $12,375.62.

—The Church Journal says that Friday is the luckiest day of the seven.

—It is estimated that over $100,000 changed hands during the great rifle match.

—Cardinal Antonelli is said to be worth over 20,000,000 francs. Who wouldn't be a cardinal?

—Capoul, the tenor, is about to marry Mlle. Grevy, daughter of the President of the Chamber under the Empire.

—No man knows better than Samuel J. Tilden, the necessity of "Reform," but, like charity, it should begin at home.

—Nasby's diplomatic tact was put to the severest test to quell a revolt at the "Corners," which he describes in another column.

—Mr. Spurgeon on a late occasion prayed that the Turks might be driven out of Europe, and his congregation cried out, "amen."

—It is the remark of a close observer that women do not want equal rights half so much as they want more room in the street cars.

—Don Carlos' wife is at Pau. Don Carlos has gone to Pau. And Don Carlos, it is announced, is now a happy Pau-Pau. It's a boy.

—A correspondent wants to know how the Ship of State is going to weather the present political storm. Well, that depends very much on the canvass.

—Those who think Abraham Lincoln was a "smutty old tyrant," when he refused to surrender to the Solid South in 1864, should vote for Hendricks.

—They had a little touch of communism at Keene, New Hampshire, yesterday—when a gang of railroad laborers demanded food and wages, or they would burn the town.

—That star you see up there, said an Aberdonian tutor to his pupil "is bigger than this world." "No, it isn't." "Yes it is." "Then, why doesn't it keep the rain off?"

—There was a sale of mummies at the Custom House yesterday, and the Democrats missed a grand chance to secure a few more candidates fresh from the grave. —Com. Adv.

—Each day makes it more apparent that it is Russia and not Servia that is facing the army of the Sultan. If it were not so, the other powers would have settled the troubles long ago.

—Lo is in an exciting humor again. His soul yearns for a sweet conference with the "Great Father" with its accompaniment — a trip to Washington, feasts and expenses.

—The press generally unite in the opinion that Professor Huxley has not so far come up to expectations. He is bold in attack, but not so successful in demonstrating the soundness of his views.

—He had been in the mines, made a stake, tested it to the charming but uncertain game of faro, lost, blew out his brains and was sincerely mourned by his pards.— Such is life in the Black Hills.

—"To me any kind of change would be acceptable," screamed a red-nosed Democratic politician the other evening at a mass meeting, and to prove it he tried to borrow a ten-cent piece of a bystander five minutes afterward.

—The Philadelphia papers pooh-pooh the idea of sickness on the Centennial grounds, and say that only the people who take four sodas, two lemonades, three beers, six ice-waters, and ice cream, cakes, and candies ad libitum are attacked. That is all very well now, but we think otherwise.

—This is the season for fall fashions. It is also the season when the married man rashly ventures to doubt the statement that a soutache should be laid on only in hair lines, bias, and subsequently goes out into the wood-shed to sit down and think what a good time he used to have when he was single.

—The local editor of this paper will be off duty for four or five days. He noticed a call for ten millions of bonds from the Secretary of the Treasury, and found that all of his were of the issue called for, hence he will be kept busy looking them up for the time mentioned.—Keokuk Constitution.

—In the Main Building I stood before the $40,000 necklace, in company with an old man and his two daughters, and heard him say: "Forty thousand dollars for them strings of glass beads!" "They are diamonds, pa, not glass beads," said his daughter. "I don't care if they are diamonds, Mary Ann; you can't make me believe that diamonds, no bigger than them, are worth $40,000 a bushel.—Centennial Letter.

—"Grace Greenwood" says that "English gentlemen and ladies are fast regaining the arts of beauty and grace in dress, lost a century or so ago under the monstrous wigs and waistcoats of the Georges, and the hoops, hair-cushions, and steel-ribbed corsets of the Carolines and Charlottes. I hold that an English gentleman of to-day, at the opera or dinner-party, is the best dressed man in the world. Next to him comes the American, and then the Frenchman."

—How seldom now one hears the name of the unfortunate ex-Empress Charlotte of Mexico, says a London correspondent. Only nine years ago since Juarez ordered out to be shot the gallant Emperor Maximilian, and now, if not forgotten, the tragedy is seldom recurred to. Still the living victim holds on to life, and now and again comes an idle whisper to say she suffers still. She now, seemingly dead to every other feeling and memory, spends her time among her flowers, caring for them as for living things.

—The New York Times man has got his coat off, and is now spitting on his hands, preparatory to demolishing Tilden, according to this programme: "We are glad, however, that Mr. Tilden has rested a part of his case on simple issues of fact. There we are quite willing to meet him, and shall with all the haste which the examination of a mass of legal and other records admit of, prove that he has attempted to conceal perjury by falsehood, and to hide frauds by the arts of the pettifogger and the shyster." The unhealthy symptom for Democrat about this threat is that the Times man heretofore has always been as good as his word.

—The Tribune sums up an analyzation of Sinnott's answer for Judge Tilden in this wise: "We have never even held that there could no plausible explanation of the meagre return for 1862. We have insisted that the circumstances demanded an explanation, and that, if it were easy to make, it would not be so long in coming. We think so still. The explanation as to 1862 is technical and hard strained, but if it stood alone, perhaps it might pass. When that return comes to be used steadily, for ten years, as the basis for escaping taxation on everything over fifteen thousand dollars at a time when his income was steadily a hundred thousand or more, per year, the situation becomes monstrous. Gov. Tilden may indeed have kept himself within the letter of the law, but it is plain that he evaded its spirit. He could not be sent to the penitentiary, as he is trying to send Jarvis Lord, for defrauding the Government, but he contrived to keep the Government from getting out of him the money to which it was entitled. He did not tell the horse-car conductor he had paid his fare, but he kept his hands in his pockets and looked unconcernedly at the conductor, as if he had; the effect was the same. When the conductor detects such a passenger, he generally puts him off the car. When the American people find him running as a Reform candidate for the Presidency, they are going to vote for the other man."

THE BOYS IN GRAY.

Ex-Conferates and Democrats to Hold a Convention to Ratify Tilden's Nomination.

INDIANAPOLIS, September 21.—A grand Democratic Mass State Convention of Union soldiers and citizens is announced to be held in this city on October 5th for the ratification of the nomination of Tilden and Hendricks, and to express appreciation of the work of the late session of the Democratic House of Representatives, especially to thank them for their effort to equalize the bounties of soldiers of the Union army. All Union soldiers in organized bodies or unorganized, and all Democratic organizations in other States are invited to come. The name of Mr. Tilden and a large number of army officers are among the list of those specially invited.

THE "CORNERS" IN REVOLT.

Mr. Nasby has some Trouble with His Flock on the Questions of Reform, etc., which He Settles in His Usual Way.

CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
WICH IS IN THE STATE UV KENTUCKY,
September 16th, 1876.

It takes a great deal of wear and tear to be the leeding Dimocrat, more than I feel I kin stand, at my time of life, pertikelerly ez Bascom ez watrin his likker more and more every day. On insuffishent sustenance it's impossible to watch all the pints and keep all the sheep safely in the fold. I'm longin for the elexkshun and inoggerashen uv that great reformer, Tilden, so that in the postoffis I kin enjoy the froots uv my labor, and by gettin my likker by the gallon, insted uv in desultory and infrekent drinks, I kin be shoor of both quality and quantity.

My last trouble wuz my wust, and it took me an entire day to get it straitened. Pollock and Joe Bigler had got hold of a Noo York Democratic paper, one which I hed been quotin as authority, and went from one bar room to another and red it to every Dimekrat in the village. They even penetrated Bascom's, and before I got in hed diffopsed ther pison in that sakred precinct. It contained long articles shown that Tilden, our standard barer, wuz committed, sole and body, not only to hard money, and imejit resumpshen, but that he wuz a reformer uv the reformist kind, goin so far as to pledge himself never pay a dollar uv Southern war claims, never to re-establish nigger servitood, in any form, and never to appint to offis any but them ez wuz fittid for it, and sich ez wuz fitted for it, and sich ez wooden't steel.

They did this while I wuz out organizin a hundred Democrats to go over into Injeany to vote in the interest uv reform in October.

When I returned there waz trouble. I wuz surrounded by a hundred indignant Democrats demanding uv me wat I wuz goin to do about it.

"I am for reform," said Deekin Pogram, "but I am goin to be paid for them sweet potatoes, and them fence rails wich Fedrel pikkits seezed."

"I am for reform," sed Capt. McPelter, "but I want pay for them horses wich John Morgan seezed, wich he wooden't hev done but for Fedrel invaders, wich makes the Government cleerly responsible for them!"

"I am for reform," sed Issaker Gavitt, "but wat is reform to me ef I can't be Collector uv this deestrick?"

Shakin uv em off I smiled a sad and pensive smile at ther child-like innosense, and mountin a stump, addressed em.

"My friends," I remarkt, "does water ever git higher than its fountin-hed? Is a Christian ever better than the Ten Commandments? (Then I hed to explain to em wat the Ten Commandments wuz.) Did yoo ever know a party to rise above the source uv its strength? It's all very well for this vile sheet in Noo York to talk about hard money there, for the bloatid bondholders of the Dimocrisy there want it, but do we? Not any. We want paper and lots uv it, and we're a goin to hev it. Wat kin the East do about resoomin? Hev the Dimocrisy any strength there? Jist enuff to hold the postoffises in case the Dimocrisy elect a President. But who elects the Dimercratic President? We uv Kentucky, uv Virginny, uv Maryland, and uv Georgy. Massachoosits want hard money, but is our beloved Tilden goin back on Kentucky where he hez frends, for the sake uv Massachoosits, where he hezn't a corporal's guard?

"And speekin uv the payment uv the claims of Deekin Pogram and Capt. McPelter. How is the Government agoin to refoose it? Ain't we the Democratic party —we an sich ez we from the Southern States? Will there be a member uv Congris electid in the South whose constityooents didn't lose fence rales, and mules and sweet potatoes? Ah, my friends, when Sherman swept to the sea, he didn't realize wat a debt he wuz a pillin up wich his very soljers will hev to pay, when we Reformers git control agin. Possibly hed them soljers knowd that they'd hev to pay for them sweet potatoes, with the costs uv collection, they woodent hev gobbled so many uv 'em. Our representatives will be safe on this question, and ez the Northern Reform Democrats will git their whack in, they will be satisfied uv the justis uv the claims. Wat else hev we to consider in the matter?

"And ez to the offises, wher does Samyooel Tilden git his support from in his own State? Is it out in Delaware county, where the people make much of skoolhouses and churches and sich, them twin destroyers uv Dimocrisy? No! Baxter street and sich is his strength. Is John Morrisey and John Kelly, and Oaky Hall, and Boss McLaughlin a supportin of him? Methinks they are. Hev they experienced a change uv heart? Hev they got so good in ther matoor yeers that they won't take an offis, or see that ther frends hev em? Is Tilden a goin to take his tone from Delaware county or from the cities where he gits his majorities?

"Oh, ye uv little faith! I am ashamed uv yoo. Don't trouble about the spoils till yoo see the thieves opposin uv him. Go home and repent. I ought to wash my hands uv yoo, but I will stay and leed yoo awhile yit. Go home and be content with wat yoor leeders are a doin. The Dimocrat wich asks questions is lost."

And the Deekin and I went into Bascom's, and after takin a drink or two, and lamentin Bob Ingersoll's infidelity, separated. The Deekin forgot to pay for the likker, and left it to be charged to me. Bascom stopped in the middle uv a denunsiation uv the Republikins for hevin on the stump sich an impious wretch ez Ingersoll, to remark that takin likker and gittin out without payin for it wuz a d—d outrage. I think everything is right here now. We renoo our strength like the eagles.

5-20 Bonds Called In.

The fourth ten million call for 5-20 bonds of 1865, May and November, for redemption ninety days hence, has been made by the Secretary of the Treasury. A fifth call will doubtless be made before the close of this month, making fifty million dollars for September. The October calls will probably amount to as much more. The bonds called in are as follows:

Coupon bonds—$50, No. 651 to 818, both inclusive; $100, No. 8,601 to 12,400, both inclusive; $500, No. 15,001 to 19,000, both inclusive; $1,000, No. 35,951 to 46,850, both inclusive; total coupon, $7,000,000.

Registered bonds—$50, No. 1 to 50, both inclusive; $100, No. 1,101 to 1,650, both inclusive; $500, No. 1,401 to 1,810, both inclusive; $1,000, No. 3,701 to 5,750, both inclusive; $5,000, No. 2,301 to 2,900, both inclusive; $10,000, No. 3,101 to 3,950, both inclusive; total registered $3,000,000; aggregate, $10,000,000.

"BOSS" TWEED.

The Tammany Thief to be Brought Back in an American Man-of-War.

NEW YORK, September 21.—The following is a special dispatch from Madrid "Learning that the commander of the United States ship Franklin, homeward bound, consents to deliver William M. Tweed to the American authorities instead of sending him back to General Jovellar, the order for Tweed's departure from Carunna has been countermanded. The Franklin, which is now at Gibraltar, proceeds to Vigo to take Tweed, who is now closely confined in the fortress Castillo Del Castro, on board her deck."

The Convention of Insurance Men.

NEW YORK, September 21.—The National Board of Fire Underwriters met this morning, and immediately went into executive session. After the session a report was made upon the report of the committee of fifteen, which had been laid over at the previous session. The first section, that the Board meet twice a year, was adopted. The second section, that a Board of companies having their home offices in places where executive or provisional committees are called upon to pass upon rates shall be represented and have a vote, was adopted. The third section, requiring all deviations from rates to be reported, was adopted. The fifth section, relative to establishing a Western department of the National Board, was referred to a special committee of five. The sixth section, that the system of fining agents be abolished, was referred to the Executive Committee. A resolution that the Executive Committee be directed to inquire into the expediency of authorizing a committee of co-operation in the South was adopted. The President read a communication from Savannah relative to the yellow fever. A subscription was taken up, resulting in one hundred and twenty-one dollars.

The Political Situation in Spain.

Ex-Queen Isabella Intriguing for Money and Power.

SPAIN.

The Political Situation.

LONDON, September 21.—Reuter's Telegram Company has received the following summary of the situation in Spain: Strenuous efforts are being made to oust Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Prime Minister. Three courts exist at present, namely, King Alfonso's, ex-Queen Christina's, the latter supported by the remaining partisans of Marshal Espartero, and ex-Queen Isabella's Court at Santander. The latter is actively intriguing. She is principally influenced by the clergy, but in a lesser degree by Senor Sagosta, Marshal Serrano and General Novaliches. It is believed these latter would not hesitate to adhere to the policy of religious intolerance in order to secure the alliance of the Isabellist party. Isabella has distributed portraits of herself and children to all the Generals. At present the object of both Christina's and Isabella's intrigues is to secure the restitution of their property by the Spanish Treasury. They claim respectively forty millions and thirty-six millions pesetas. Senor Canovas del Castillo positively refuses these demands. A member of the party now in power recently expressed the opinion that the object of the toleration clause in the Constitution was merely to give satisfaction abroad, but the Government would not allow any non-Catholic creed to attempt to establish itself in Spain. In this connection a Madrid telegram to-day states that the Government has approved the conduct of the prefect of Valladolid, who forbade the sale of Protestant bibles in the streets of that place.

TURKEY.

Prince Milan as King of Servia.

LONDON, September 21.—The Times' Belgrade correspondent says he doubts whether it is possible to ignore Prince Milan's proclamation as King, as the priests and the masses of the population side with General Tchernayeff and the Russians. The correspondent also says. Servia now believes in victory, and I must say this belief is not surprising. The Servian Morava army occupies a strong position, forming a semi-circle from Alexinatz and Deligrad around to Djunis and Viliki. The Turkish army is more concentrated, but as it is in a valley between the left and right of the Servian position, the Turks would not have much chance of advancing further.

The Turks Short of Rations.

It is also asserted that the Turks lack food. Deserters assert that when changing their camping grounds the Turks burn their tents. The Servians believe this is in consequence of the appearance of the plague.

A Deligrad correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs: If the armistice were for a fortnight I should not be surprised if starvation compelled the Turks to evacuate their position.

A dispatch from Vienna says the Austrian ambassador at Constantinople is negotiating relative to the conditions of peace between the Porte and Montenegro, in hopes of obtaining the cession of the port of Spitza to Montenegro.

BLACK HILLS NEGOTIATIONS.

The Peace Commissioners Succeed in Holding a Council with Red Cloud and His People—Speeches by Chiefs—They are Willing to Part with the Black Hills if Well Paid—All Want to Make a Visit to Washington and See Their "Great Father."

RED CLOUD AGENCY, September 19, VIA FT. LARAMIE, September 21.—The Commission succeeded to-day in bringing Red Cloud and his people to the council. Among the prominent Indians present were Red Cloud, Little Wound, Swift Bear, Red Leaf, Black Coal, White Tail, Sitting Bull, Pretty Crow, Eagle Dress, Young-Man-Afraid, and Quick Bear. Many officers from Camp Robinson attended the council, which lasted two hours. Red Cloud made the first speech. He said he and his people were willing to give up the Black Hills country, also have his young men take a journey to see the country spoken of by the Commission, the Indian Territory, and if they report that it is a good country his people will so consider it. If they report it bad they will consider it bad.

Quick Bear said when the young men got back from that country the Indians would want to go to Washington with their agents, chiefs and interpreters and have a talk with the Great Father before giving this country up.

Sitting Bull said: I have got a judgment against the agent. If he is here every ten days promptly it is all right; but if he don't, I will go north.

Young-Man-Afraid said: My father shook hands with the Great Father on the Platte river, and was told this country belonged to the Dacotahs. I was brought up in this country to be a chief. The soldiers have no concern in this country. Since I have been here I have tried to do right. I wish to tell you plainly I have been ashamed ever since the soldiers came here and sat down. I wish you, my friends, who have brains and hearts, to tell my Great Father what my opinion is and what I have said. I agree to the young men going on the journey, but we are going to ask of the Great Father a great many things. We expect to have food and blankets as long as we live. The Great Father has not lived up to the promises in the past.

American Horse said soldiers had no business here. If they wish to arrest anybody, the country is wide. Let them go and arrest them. There are a great many bad men in the North. Let the soldiers go and arrest them. (Laughter on the part of the Indians.)

Here Red Cloud took Dr. Daniels, Major Howard and Joseph Besmet and set them among the Indian chiefs, and said he wanted them to do his business for him and go to the southern country with his young men. He also wanted F. C. Bowcher, Antoine Janes, Bill Sowland, Hank Clifford, Todd Randall, Frank Solway and Nelse Moran to go as interpreters.

Red Dog said the Indians are not willing to sign any paper until the young men got back from the southern country and they had a chance to go to Washington and talk face to face with the Great Father.

Black Coal, chief of the Arrapahoes, said his people had equal rights with the Sioux to the Black Hills country, and they would want their share of the money received for them. He was willing to go and look at the southern country.

Bishop Whipple replied to the Indians that the Great Father required them to sign a paper binding themselves to go to the Missouri river and go to the Indian Territory; else they would get no more rations. He urged them to consent at once to the proposition and go to the Indian Territory upon the return of the young men.

Judge Gaylord, Solicitor of the Interior Department, followed to the same effect, urging prompt action on their part in order to secure rations in the future. While he was talking Sitting Bull, to whom the President gave a fine rifle last year, broke up the council, saying there would be plenty more days to talk. Supplies were issued to the Indians for a feast to-night, and it is thought another council may be held to-morrow.

WORKINGMEN'S RIOT.

Laborers on a New Hampshire Railroad Create an Alarm in Keene — They Demand Their Wages and Food—A Threat to Burn the Town.

KEENE, N. H., September 21.—About three hundred and fifty men, laborers on the Manchester & Keene Railroad, marched into the city this afternoon, armed with canes and clubs, creating general alarm. The Court House bell was rung and Central square was speedily filled with citizens. The men are mostly Italians, and the demonstration was caused by the failure of the contractors to pay their wages. The men visited the residence of several prominent men identified with the road, demanding wages and food, threatening to burn the town if their demands were not complied with. The police and military are under arms, and will prevent violence.

The Centennial Exposition.

PHILADELPHIA, September 21.—The attendance to-day exceeds that of any previous day in the history of the Centennial Exposition. Over one hundred thousand admissions were reported up to one o'clock. President Grant was present, and at noon lunched at the British headquarters.

The Fire Record.

LEXINGTON, KY., September 21. — A large and destructive fire took place at Georgetown, twelve miles from this city, this morning, at an early hour. The Court House and a number of business houses were laid in ashes. The loss is $12,500, and insurance $7,400.

SMOKED OUT AT LAST.

Tilden's Best Friend Speaks for Him—He Tries to Clear up that Little Tax Trouble—A Specious Plea, but the Material Facts not Disputed—A Shyster's Explanation that is a Confession of Guilt.

NEW YORK, September 21.—Gov. Tilden's explanation of his Income Tax is at last published. It is in the form of a statement by Judge James P. Sinnott, of the Marine Court, who was in Gov. Tilden's law office during the entire period of the alleged delinquencies, and was the Governor's confidential law clerk. Mr. Hewitt, as Chairman of the National Committee, applied to Judge Sinnot for this statement, and introduces it to the public in a card, in which he refers to the Times' article, and says he asked for certified copies of the returns of Govs. Hayes and Tilden from Washington, but did not get them, no answer having been received to his letter. He then addressed a note to Judge James P. Sinnott, who was the confidential law clerk of Gov. Tilden during the whole period in which the law imposing an income tax was in force, asking him to examine the alleged account of Gov. Tilden's income during the year 1862, and furnish such explanations in regard thereto as his necessary familiarity with the details would enable him to supply.

Glittering Generalities.

Commenting upon Judge Sinnott's answer Mr. Hewitt says:

"His answer herewith submitted to the public shows that out of thirteen pretended items of income amounting to $110,000, eleven items amounting to $84,000 are wholly fictitious, while of the other two only one of $1,000 is entirely true, and the second of $25,000 is only partially true. There is therefore no ground for the assertion that the sworn return was not a just and accurate statement of the net income of Gov. Tilden, after making such deductions for losses, interest paid and other charges as the law authorized him to make. If exception be taken to Judge Sinnott's letter on the ground that it does not contain a detailed statement of the several items upon which the return of 1862 was made, it is proper to state that the regulations of the department did not require such detailed statements, and very few professional men made such statements, or could now recall the items, or have kept the memoranda upon which their returns were made."

The card or answer of Judge Sinnott is very lengthy, occupying over two columns space in the Times. Over one half of the statement is occupied with a detailed refutation of the charges that in the year 1862 Gov. Tilden had received thirteen severally enumerated items of income, mainly fees from railroads, amounting in all to $108,000. These items Judge Sinnott examines in detail, pronounces some of them utterly and wholly fictitious, no such service having been rendered and Gov. Tilden not even having been in the employ of the railroads at any time, the service in others having been rendered year.

Before the Income Tax was Levied.

The Judge next takes up the account of Mr. Tilden with the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad. He (Tilden) commenced this work in 1859, and did not finish it until the early part of 1862. The Judge says: "His engagements on account of this railroad during that whole period were constant and engrossing. Whatever pay he received was for the entire service as a whole—it was not itemized or apportioned. The income tax law went into effect on the 1st of January, 1862, and the incomes falling under its operation were those accruing from and after the said 1st day of January, 1862. Income which had accrued before that time was exempt from its operation. I do not think it necessary to occupy much time or space in discussing the legal aspects of this income question, or in sustaining the right of a citizen to receive and retain, free from income tax, moneys which he had already earned by his own labor in years when no income tax existed. The rule on this subject was early declared and promulgated by the Internal Revenue Department itself, and is in full accord with these views." In support of this view Judge Sinnott quotes the following decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. "A merchant's return of income should cover the business of the year 1862, excluding previous years. Physicians and lawyers should include actual receipts for services rendered in 1862, together with an estimate of unrealized or contingent income due to that year."

"In view of these decisions," says the Judge, "and official instructions of the Internal Revenue Department, Mr. Tilden's income returns for 1862 was made up so that, even if a different view had since been authoritatively held and expressed, Mr. Tilden would stand completely justified. But there is no authority for any different view."

About Those $10,000 Payments.

Judge Sinnott next deals with the original income tax charge, namely, that, while in the year 1862 Gov. Tilden returned an income subject to taxation of $7,600, he has since sworn in answer to another suit to a receipt in that year from the first and second mortgage bondholders of the St. Louis, Alton and Terre Haute Railroad of $20,000, $10,000 having been paid by the bondholders of each class. He adduces to a large amount of data to show that this money was paid for services running through four or five years previous to 1862—none of it being earned in that year, and consequently, he argues, not liable to tax. The Judge denies in toto the further charge that Gov. Tilden received $33,000 mortgage bonds of the St. Louis, Alton and Terre Haute railroad.

Why He Returned No Income.

The Judge concludes as follows: "In respect to the allegation that after two years of the income tax, Mr. Tilden made no return, but left that portion of his tax which was in excess of the payments for his account made by the corporations, whose bonds and stock he held, to be assessed under the law by the estimate of the public officers, the answer is simple. The statute gave the tax payer the option to take that course, and good and honorable reasons existed why a scrupulous man should accept that option. Mr. Tilden received no favor from the Government officers, and sought none. He did nothing but pay all they imposed on him. Nearly all his income from investments paid the tax through the corporations whose bonds and stocks he held without allowance for the lawful deductions. On the residue, after the lawful deductions were made, he believed at the time, that instead of paying less, he oftener paid more than would have been the result of a full, but troublesome accounting. He preferred in that way to be exempted from the difficulties incident to attempting a specific statement of the affairs in which he was interested, and of the corporations and business in which he was an investor; and also to be exempted from the responsibility of adjudicating on the facts and the law applicable to uncertain and fluctuating elements during rapid and violent changes of fictitious values. The law was unsettled; questions of real difficulty existed. Constructions were set up by officials which were often conflicting, unintelligible, or incapable of a just or safe application; and it was not agreeable to make a return on a doubtful or disputed theory, or in contradiction to even unmeritorious claims made in behalf of the Government."

THE SPORTING WORLD.

The Shooting at Creedmoor—The Americans Again Ahead—They Win by Eleven Points.

CREEDMOOR, September 21.—In the first part of the morning the weather was cloudy, with a stiff wind blowing dead from the targets, but before the shooting commenced the wind moderated and the sky became clearer. The following are the individual scores of the American team at the 800 yards: Dakin, 71; Weber, 66; Allen, 68; Fulton, 70, Farwell, 66; Rathbone, 68; total, 409.

The result at the 900 yards range gives the Americans 386 and the Irish 369. The individual scores were as follows:

Americans—Farwell, 69; Rathbone, 69; Dakin, 67; Weber, 68; Allen, 59; Fulton, 54.

Irish—Milner, 72; Dyas, 64; Rigby, 61; Fenton, 59; Johnson, 57; Joynt, 56.

The total score at 1,000 yards is: Irish team, 391; Americans, 370. The Irish gained 21 points on the 1,000 yards range, leaving the Americans victors by 11 points.

The Turf.

LOUISVILLE, September 21.—First race, ¾ mile dash for two year olds; won by Springbranch; time 1:18. Second race, 1¾ miles dash; won by Whisper; time 3:09. Third race, 1¼ miles dash; won by Redding; time 2:24½. Fourth race, for two year old fillies, dash of five furlongs; won by Eva Hirley; time 1:05.

The Mountain Meadow Massacre

SALT LAKE, September 21.—In the Beaver court to-day Bishop asked a delay of ten days before sentence be passed on Lee, to give him time to file papers for an appeal. Lee is sad and threatening betimes. There is a rumor that he intends to expose more than is already known.

Gen. Crook at Fort Laramie.

CHEYENNE, September 21.—Gen. Crook has arrived at Fort Laramie, and is now in council with Gen. Sheridan, who has been waiting for him at that point since Saturday.

LONDON, September 21.—The steamships Italy and St. Laurent, from New York, and Leipzig, from Baltimore, have arrived out.

SECOND EDITION

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

Grand Parade of the Veterans.

Proceedings of the Convention.

A Platform Adopted—The Democratic Party Arraigned for its Demoralizing Policy—Good Times Dependent on Republican Success in the Presidential Election—The Nomination of Hayes and Wheeler Endorsed—Greetings from the Presidential Candidates.

INDIANAPLIS, September 21.—The parade this forenoon was started at about 10½ o'clock, occupying forty minutes in passing, with about thirty-five hundred men in line. The weather was cloudy, with occasional light rain, but not enough to prove a discomfort.

The Convention reassembled at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with Gov. Noyes in the chair. The Committee on Organization reported one member for the Executive Committee and one Vice President for each State. Then came the report of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted by Gen. Hurlbut, which were adopted, and which are as follows:

The Platform of the Veterans.

WHEREAS, The soldiers and sailors of the United States tock up arms to defend the integrity of the Union, to maintain the supremacy of the law and solidity of a common country.

AND WHEREAS, These results of a great war crystalized in constitutional amendments which have been accepted by the American people as full payment and satisfaction for the lives lost and the treasure expended in the struggle.

AND WHEREAS, The cowardly foes that struck at the back of the agonized nation have now leagued themselves in perfect union with the bolder rebel element to render nugatory the fruits of our victories, to deny in practice the equal rights of the colored man, and to obtain by fraud what they failed to secure by force of arms; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the soldiers and sailors of the United States in convention assembled, that this American nation is the creation of God and the people, that it is worth all the sacrifices we have made or can make, and that its value can only be measured by what the people are ready to give for it.

Resolved, further, That the destiny of this country for good is committed to the Republican party, an organization of freemen, to perfect and secure for all time the absolute fruition of our labors and our sufferings.

Resolved, further, That the Democratic organization, headed by Tilden and Hendricks, is a bad and base representative of the American people, that it is unsound on the cardinal question of life and death to the republic, that it is the same party which in 1864 by its platform denounced and denied the success of the war, that it has no sympathy to day except from men who labored against us and sought to demoralize the nation in the hour of its supreme trial.

Resolved, further, That industry and free government go hand in hand, that prosperity comes not alone, but as the child of Republican institutions, and depends upon Republican success, and that justice to all men is the condition precedent to public or private welfare.

Resolved, further, That good government can only be obtained by obedience to law, and that the denial of political rights to the freeman of the South is a step backward and tends to anarchy.

Resolved, further, That the hope of the industry of the nation, prostrated by the factious proceedings of the Democratic House of Representatives and the bare apprehension of the ultimate triumph of the odious principles of the rebellion, depends upon the success of the Republican party, which alone can restore confidence to capital and assure to labor constant employment and fair remuneration for honest work.

Resolved, further, That R. B. Hayes and Wm. Wheeler, by their high personal character, their distinguished public services, their unfaltering devotion to human liberty and equal rights, are fit leaders of the great party which saved the nation and is destined to preserve it, and that we pledge them our full, open and manly support.

(Signed)

S. A. HURLBUT,
EDWARD NOYES,
WALTER HARRIMAN,
JAMES S. NEGLEY,
AMBROSE E. BURNSIDE,
Committee on Resolutions.

The following telegrams and letters were then read:

Letter from Gov. Hayes.

COLUMBUS, O., September 20, 1876.

To Gen. Edward F. Noyes, Chairman Soldiers Convention:

I am grateful to my comrades of the Union army, assembled at Indianapolis, for their hearty greeting. The men who maintained the cause of nationality and freedom on so many battle fields are not willing to see the result of the war imperiled by neglect or misconduct at the ballot box. This example will be very influential with all intelligent and patriotic people.

(Signed) R. B. HAYES.

From W. A. Wheeler.

MALONE, N. Y. September 20, 1876.

To Hon. Jas. A. Garfield, Commander, &c.:

The invitations were too late for reply by letter. I regret my inability to be present. My cordial greeting to the soldiers and the sailors. May their ballots be as potent as their arms upon land and sea.

(Signed) W. A. WHEELER.

From Gen. E. D. Morgan.

NEW YORK, September 15, 1876.

To Gen. John A. Dix, Chairman Union Veterans' National Convention:

MY DEAR SIR—I have received your polite invitation to attend the Mass Convention of Soldiers and Sailors to be held at Indianapolis on the 20th and 21st of the present month. It would give me sincere pleasure to be present on that occasion and meet face to face those brave men who, risking their lives, left lucrative occupations and dependent familes to protect and preserve the country we all love so much. The preservation of this Government was the work of the people and the consummation of their patriotic efforts. But let it ever be borne in mind, in measuring the sacrifices it cost, that blood was more precious than gold. The men who nobly fell in the struggle, or returned broken down and shattered in limb, were contributions to the grand result in a degree compared with which all the offerings that the wealth of the country poured into its Treasury sinks in to insignificance.

Thanking you for your courtesy, and regretting that other engagements prevent my being present, very truly,

E. D. MORGAN.

"Down with the Traitor."

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21, 1876.

Chairman of Soldiers' Reunion:

Comrades—Down with the traitor and up with the stars.

AUGUST WELLICH,
Major General.

Greeting from President Grant.

PHILADELPHIA, September 21, 1876.

Gov. E. F. Noyes, Indianapolis:

Please express to the Veterans (Union soldiers) my regret that I cannot be with them on this happy occasion, and hope the meeting of so many soldiers from so many parts of the Union may prove as interesting to those meeting as it will prove beneficial in reminding them and the country that all was not in vain that they suffered so much for the preservation and perpetuation of a united Government.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

After the reading, Gen. Walter Harrison, of New Hampshire, was introduced, and spoke at some length.

Speech by Col. Ingersoll.

Upon the conclusion of his remarks there were persistent calls for Col. Ingersoll, of Illinois, who had just reached the speaker's stand. He then spoke for an hour and a quarter, apparently to the very great satisfaction of his audience. His speech is the subject of much favorable comment to-night.

The speaking was continued by Gens. Tuttle, of Iowa, Kilpatrick, of New Jersey, and Robinson, of New York, up to five o'clock, when the convention adjourned. To-night before dark the people began to assemble along the line of march designated for the streets in the Central Park of the city especially being densely packed with surging crowds, who cheered the different companies passing to the general rendezvous. Many hotels and other buildings along the line were handsomely illuminated. The procession moved at 8 o'clock, and was in size about the same as the day parade. The burning of colored fires, Roman candles and rockets were a prominent feature.

The Ohio delegation, in a meeting here to-day, voted to hold a veteran soldiers' reunion at Cleveland on October 3rd.

ALLEGHENY NEWS.

A "Gazette" Reporter's Notes of Interest From the Sister City.

....The fence around the water basin was completed yesterday.

....Superintendent Richmond yesterday commenced the laying of about two thousand feet of six inch water pipe on Preble avenue, in the Ninth ward.

....Tobias Kennedy, who was wanted for committing a burglary in a house on Buena Vista street some time ago, has been arrested in Columbus, Ohio, on a charge of larceny committed there.

....An alarm was caused from box 54 at half past four o'clock yesterday afternoon by a small fire on the roof of a house on Main street, near Carpenter's alley. No damage of any importance was done.

....About four o'clock yesterday afternoon an accident occurred near the Point that created some excitement for a short time. The tug boat "Ark" was going down the Monongahela river with a tow of barges, and when passing the Point the "Vigilant" came out of the Allegheny river and ran into the barges before it could be stopped. No damage was done.

....About three o'clock yesterday morning officer Greenwood discovered a man drunk and asleep on the railroad track, near Anderson street. The officer awakened him and started toward the lock-up, and a moment afterward a train passed over the spot where he had been lying. He gave his name as Thomas Hartmus. In default of $1 and costs he was sent to jail for forty-eight hours.

....Early yesterday morning, as a butcher named H. Henion was driving along East street, he accidentally drove over the bank, and his wagon was upset into Butcher's run. He lost about seventeen dollars worth of meat. The darkness was the cause of the accident. Within half an hour another butcher named Phillip Beckert accidentally upset his wagon at the same place, and had about twenty dollars worth of meat spoiled.

....A little girl named Schrauder made a narrow escape from being run over by Acting Chief Lehman, at the corner of Ohio street and Cedar avenue, while he was driving to the fire on Main street. She started to run across the street, but fell just a few feet in front of the horse. She had presence of mind sufficient to roll herself out of the way before getting on her feet again. The wheels passed within a few inches of her.

....On Wednesday evening a little three year old daughter of Mr. Adam Born, who resides on Main street, Eighth ward, made her way into the smoke house, where a fire was burning on the floor. She stumbled head foremost into the flames, but was drawn out a moment after by a man who had seen the accident. She was very badly burned about the face, and on her hands and arms. Medical aid was summoned, but she was still in a critical condition last evening.

....Last evening about six o'clock a boy named Abraham Miller, who is employed in the hinge factory in Lewis, Oliver & Phillips' rolling mill, in the Ninth ward, was playing with some other boys in the work shop when he got one of his legs between the spokes of a fly wheel that was revolving very rapidly. He was thrown violently to the ground and sustained a severe wound in his leg, which was thought to be fractured. He was removed to his home on Ohio avenue and Dr. Langfitt summoned.

KING, REED & CO.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1876.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 49f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 103½

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 109¾.

THE critics are hard after Prof. HUXLEY already.

PREDICTIONS come from England that wheat will soon command a higher price.

GENERAL NEWTON assures the good people of New York that he will not come the GUY FAWKS game over or under them, when he blows up Hell Gate.

EVERY member of the Ku Klux order, every Northern bounty-jumper, and every whining, sniveling Northern traitor will vote for TILDEN and HENDRICKS.

THE New York Times naively remarks: "It is four weeks ago since Gov. TILDEN was proved in these columns to be a perjurer and tax-grabber." That is what they call him at home.

THE Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts is attempting to explain to the Fenians why he refused to interfere in their interest when Minister to England. Chickens will come home to roost.

BEN. BUTLER is sighing for an opponent. He objects to a quiet canvass and a walk-over. The Democrats, in order to keep him off the stump, are promising to support him, if he will only let their party alone. BEN objects.

TILDEN'S reply to the charge of defrauding the revenue, is out at last. We shall look into it when we have the fall statement before us. It has been four weeks in course of preparation, and is made by his confidential clerk, JAMES P. SINNOTT.

THE very large number of excursionists who have left this city and vicinity recently, for the Centennial, have escaped all accidents, and report much enjoyment during their visit to Philadelphia. As many as ten thousand Allegheny county people are said to have been in that city at one time this week.

THE burden of the Democratic complaint, hereabouts, appears to be, that BELKNAP—a Democrat—was detected at his little tricks, and that Democrats are kept from starving, in large numbers, because of street improvements, in this city, where they have found work. What next? Why don't they sing for TWEED,

"Return, oh! wanderer, return."

THE Tribune says "the Democrats have been unfortunate in their 'battle cries' this year. They started out yelling 'Reform' and hoping to drown all hostile sounds thereby, but the Republicans have turned the cry against them so completely by showing up their record, that it has become the biggest joke of the canvass, and is everywhere greeted with ridicule."

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS says, in an interview, that he had fully made up his mind to remain in retirement, until the Democratic party in Massachusetts nominated him. He need'nt feel much disturbed, for his retirement to private life is not likely to be interrupted at present. The Republicans of his native State will be fully considerate of his feelings and wishes for privacy.

IN closing an article on the canvass in Indiana and Ohio the Tribune remarks:

> "There may be better political organizers in the United States than Mr. James G. Blaine, but if so, it is of the first importance that they occupy themselves after Mr. Blaine's fashion in Ohio and Indiana within the next fortnight."

That paper professes to believe that there is no doubt of either State being carried by the Republicans in October. All signs point in the same direction.

COL. INGERSOLL'S address must have stirred up the dry bones in some quarters, judging from the terrible and frantic squirming of the animals ever since he spoke at City Hall. He has proved a veritable VAN AMBURG or a HERR DRESBACH, to have created such a turmoil and uproar among the various cages of the Democratic menagerie. Since he thrust his "shining lance full and fair against the brazen front of the enemies of his country" all manner of noises have been heard, from the shrill twitter of the monkey up to the roar of the royal Bengal tiger. And yet Col. BOB pursues the even tenor of his way, repeating the act wherever he goes. Of course Democracy despises, and takes no notice of him.

THE stirring words of General DIX, in his letter addressed to the encampment of the Boys in Blue at Indianapolis, have the true ring of the genuine metal. No uncertain sound is made by the old hero, and things are called by their right names. The fear of hurting the tender feelings of our late erring brethren, and their Northern sympathizers, does not appear to have troubled him, as he yet retains a vivid recollection of the time, when surrounded by a horde of traitors, bent on tearing asunder and trampling on the very emblem of freedom and nationality, he issued his famous order, "If any man attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot." General DIX is sound to the core, and supports HAYES and WHEELER with all his might and main.

THE verdict of murder in the first degree, rendered by the Salt Lake jury, against JOHN D. LEE, the inhuman butcher, who was the author of the Mountain Meadow massacre, will be satisfactory to the entire nation. For a long series of years, the Western emigrant trains had been subjected to the murderous attacks of a gang of desperadoes, led by this man, and his tracks were so well covered, and so few of his victims ever lived to tell the sad story of his wickedness, that he has for years escaped the vengeance of the law. It was, and still is, thought that he was but the agent of BRIGHAM YOUNG in these atrocities, and if this is correct, the condemned man may yet confess the truth.

THE attendance at the Centennial Exposition has grown steadily with each week since the extreme hot weather ceased, until it has reached the numbers which marked the opening days, and gave such great promise of success. This is very gratifying in every way, as it is all that is needed to make the Centennial celebration one of the grandest successes of the age. The show is certainly well worthy the visit of every one; and now since the pleasant days have come, and with them extraordinary low rates of railroad fare, it is to be hoped that all who can possibly do so, will take the time to visit the great International exhibit. It will, for years to come, be the subject of conversation; and all who are now able, will regret it extremely in the future, if they fail to visit the great Centennial show.

THERE was just a slight whisper in Washington last winter that the Confederates intended to draft an act, uniting the Southern wounded, and others there, who would have been entitled to a pension from JEFF DAVIS' Government, had it been successful, along with those of the Union armies and their wives and children now on the pension rolls, but it was thought best to postpone the matter for the present. Wise counsels from the North for once prevailed, and the Confederates submitted to the advice, until a more convenient season. Does any man believe that the South will not insist that their pensioners shall be paid along with ours, in case they get full control of the Government? If so, we would deem him a fit subject for an asylum.

IF THIS district needs a polished, diamond-fronted gentleman, with lavender colored kids and patent leather pumps to dance at the receptions, like a monkey chained to an organ, we submit that RUSSELL ERRETT will not fill the bill. Some one else will have to be elected by the "horny handed sons of Vulcan," to represent them at Washington. But if brains are needed there, and sterling honesty, and sound patriotism, and a firm belief that this Union of ours is a nation of freemen, to be protected in all their rights, both against foreign pauper labor, and Southern diabolism, and wholesale robbery of the Treasury for unjust rebel claims, then we submit that plain, honest RUSSELL ERRETT is just the man for the place.

NO MORE DODGING.

We would like to know how the Congressman in this, and the adjoining district, intend to vote on the demands made from the South for over five hundred million dollars worth of property, claimed to have been destroyed or consumed by the Union army in its "march to the sea." This can hardly be called a "dead issue," as it will have to be met next winter at Washington, and is about as important as the questions that occupy about all of the time of the honorable gentlemen. The amount is tolerably large, that their Southern friends demand, and will almost place the National debt back to where it was at the close of the war, in the event of its being allowed. The question is an ugly one; but we have a right to know how our Representatives intend to vote. We want the statement on record, so that we can refer to it, when the claims come up next Winter, for settlement, and while they are at it, there appears to be some doubt as to how they will meet the question of refunding the cotton tax; they might let us know where they stand on that little item. After they have responded to these very proper enquiries, we shall give them one or two more, not quite so hard to answer, perhaps, but full as important to the general public. We pretty well know how ERRETT and BAYNE will vote on these and kindred subjects; but HOPKINS and COCHRAN have not as yet defined their claim to Republican support, and we want them to do so, clearly, unmistakably and promptly. By the way, why is it that Mr. COCHRAN does not appear at the public meetings of the Democracy where he is advertised to speak? We know of several occasions where Republicans have been present, and went with the desire to hear him speak, but he did not appear, although the bills said he was to be there, and address the people. Again, we wonder why the Democratic addresses of himself and his colleague are not published, so that the people can know what they think and say, when they do appear? We want to hear from them, on the vital issues, that they know will be presented to them for their support, by the Southern wing of their party next winter. Messrs. HOPKINS and COCHRAN please speak out clearly, that all may hear.

THE OUTLOOK IN EUROPE.

The situation in Europe over the troubles between Turkey and Servia grows, each day and hour, more interesting, and some cause is apparent among the English Ministry for alarm. There is no doubt that DISRAELI—now Lord BEACONSFIELD—sees much cause for anxiety over existing affairs, and there can be no question that he, along with the entire Government, desires an amicable adjustment of the Turco-Servian troubles. His recent speech at Aylesbury, on the Eastern question, drew forth from him the statement that he had informed the Queen, some time ago, that his public services were fast drawing to a close, and nothing of an unimportant character would induce him, hereafter, to appear in public life. The anxiety felt by the Ministry over the pending quarrel in the East, and the attitude assumed by the Russian Government, coupled with the troublesome and alarming unrest exhibited by the English working classes, have at last broken this enforced retirement of the infirm Premier, and compelled him to again appear before the public, and assume the reins of office.

The learned and patriotic Earl deprecated the position taken by the working classes, and the people generally, in several of their large public meetings, affirming that the honor of England and the peace of Europe would both be imperiled, if their counsels should prevail. For once, it would appear, if DISRAELI has correctly interpreted the issues of the pending contest, and the impending diplomatic struggle, the great popular heart of the English people is wrong, and needs to be taught by those who are supposed to know the inside of the questions pressing on the Ministry. That the people desire peace, and that the Government hopes to avoid a war through the measures which they cherish, and expect to have adopted by the powers interested, is no less true, than the very obvious fact that the old Turkish love, or rather hate for Russia, is gaining the upper hand with the English statesmen. They have not forgotten the lessons taught them by the father of the present Czar in 1854, at the Malakoff, the Redan and in the pits around Sevastopol, and they would gladly acquire now, through diplomacy, what they lost then through the fate of war. The English common people, as distinguished from the aristocracy, looking at the subject as Christians, and not through the eyes of statesmen and diplomats, see inhuman barbarities practiced by the Turks, and a useless and wholesale shedding of blood, which call for interference on the part of Christian nations in the interest of humanity. They may not look far enough, or they, innocent souls, might descry through the mazes of European entanglements the sharpened claws of the great Russian Bear, plainly teaching the crafty English Premier to stay his hands, and let the slaughter go on. Never before in history was a better illustration given of the inhumanity of state-craft; and yet, after all, should DISRAELI and Lord DERBY act in accordance with the teachings of their hearts, and in compliance with the wishes of the great body of the English people, a terrible war might at once, be precipitated on all Europe, in which blood would flow in vaster quantities, and the horrors of the Turkish barbarities would pale, and be covered out of sight by still greater woes.

Doubtless the learned and astute Earl is right, and time will be required to prove him so. If he really wishes peace, and every indication points that way, and while the welfare of his country demands it, war will doubtless be avoided. In his recent speech, he gave to the public the evidence of the desire of the Ministry for peace, and the hopes upon which they were relying to maintain it, in the following words:

> "The war between Servia and the PORTE having commenced, it was quite impossible to carry out the ideas which we suggested. The Servian war is wicked and outrageous. Servia, in its relations with the PORTE, has violated every principle of honor and morality. Although LORD DERBY was accused of doing nothing, he induced Turkey, at the moment when she had triumphed over those whom she considered had rebelled and outrageously invaded her, to agree to a suspension of hostilities without date, leaving the Powers themselvet to fix the terms of peace. The next step for the British Government is to revert exactly to the position which it occupied before the Servian war began, namely; to attempt, with the concurrence of all the European Powers, to settle the relations between the PORTE and the Christians on the avowed basis laid down by LORD DERBY. I believe all the Great Powers sincerely desire to come to a conclusion on the subject. Is it the desire of any sensible man that instead of such a course we should pursue wild plans for driving the Turks from Europe, which, as every European Government is aware would if attempted, lead to a European war?'

It will be readily observed from this extract, that a decided leaning is foreshadowed toward Turkey, and instead of the Sultan's forces being denounced for barbarisms and atrocities committed on defenseless prisoners of war, such as those that stirred up the hearts of the English people to cry out shame, and to make a demand for the interference of a Christian Government against the cruel Turk, the Earl protests that the "Servian war is wicked and outrageous;" and again "Servia, in its relations with the Porte, has violated every principle of honor and morality." Not one word does the crafty statesman utter against the crimes of the Porte, and this in the face of the horrors of the massacres of Bulgaria. He leaves the door wide open in order, that at the proper time, Christian England can lock hands with the Pagan Turk.

In the meantime what is Russia doing? We learn from different sources that money, in large sums, has been advanced to Prince MILAN, and support and encouragement in various ways have reached him from the towns and cities of Russia. Large numbers of recruits have gone to join his army, and does any one suppose all this is against the wishes, or without the knowledge of the government of the Czar? A statement comes from Berlin to the London Times that the language of Russia's statesmen and journals is decidedly warlike, while the Government stands aloof in the attitude of an uninterested spectator, simply saying "hands off." Another dispatch says "if Russia is satisfied to have the war close, leaving the belligerents just where the war found them, the strife will cease," as Turkey will hardly insist on unwise conditions, such as those she has attempted to impose on Servia, especially so, if England should weaken in her support of such demand. Whether the Porte is willing, and can afford to end the war made upon her by the invaders, without stipulations for future safety, and some indemnity for her losses, is yet to be decided, as is the other question whether Servia is ready to retire and disband her forces, leaving the matters unsettled, that were thought vital enough to produce the war. The next move on the political chess board will be looked for with decided interest, but to many, the indications begin to look warlike.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE coming man of the Democratic party—Mr. William Tweed.

A LIFE-LONG Democrat and influential lawyer of Dayton, Ohio, Col. M. P. Nolan, has announced his intention to support Hayes.

THE soldiers are all right everywhere. Votes were taken at the reunion of two Connecticut regiments last week. Result: Hayes, 115; Tilden, 11; Cooper, 8; declined to vote, 17.

WHEN Lieutenant Governor Dorsheimer began his speech in Boston with the remark that "Faneuil Hall is full to-night," an effervescent reformer in the crowd shouted, "So is Mike Doherty!" It was the only joke of an otherwise solemn meeting.

A CRISP little pamphlet of nearly eight hundred pages, solid octavo, closely printed, has just been issued from Governor Tilden's New York campaign grist mill, but it does not contain a word about that income business. Crowded out for want of space, probably.

THE St. Paul Dispatch, said to have been the only Democratic "organ" in Minnesota, has changed owners, and on last Thursday astonished its old-time readers by presenting at the head of its columns portraits of Hayes and Wheeler, followed by the announcement that it would heartily support them for President and Vice President of the United States.

ON the whole, masterly inactivity is the policy to be commended to Mr. Tilden's followers just now about that income tax business. They are only making matters worse by explaining. If they will only wait, Sammy will cook up something, say by November. To be sure, it will be too late, but "it's of no consequence, you know," judgment is already entered up.

GENERAL DANIEL E. SICKLES, now just arrived in New York from Europe, will soon mount the husting for Hayes and Wheeler. To-day the country needs all such men as Daniel E. Sickles. The national exigency is just as grave as it was after secession in 1861, after Gettysburg in 1863, after Lincoln's assination in 1865, and after Johnson's treason in 1868. There is but one issue. Currency, tariff, local interests, small economies, ridiculous animosities and disappointments, political intrigues and municipal rivalries, all sink to nothing if each attempts to be supreme; yet they all pour, like rivulets and rivers, into the one great ocean of public peril and national necessity, and that is, shall the Government be given back to its enemies or retained in the hands of its friends? —Phila. Press.

THE treachery of Northern leaders, the subserviency reduced to a principle for so many years exhibited by Democratic Representatives and Democratic constituencies, the half-hearted support which the Union, in the hour of imminent and mortal peril, received from some Democrats, and the indifference, amounting almost to treason, of many others—all these have forced the cautious voter into speculations concerning the probable effects of the return of such a party to national power. So the old issue is here. We may regret that it has been raised; but whether the Republicans or the Democrats are responsible for it, here it is. The moment inquirers ask themselves what would be the probable course of Democratic Administration, they begin to remember, and there is no forgetfulness to be found for them in the most sophistical of speeches, the most persuasive of leading articles, the cleverest misrepresentations of the situation.

A Georgia Politician.

The Alabama State Journal relates the following: "No, sah," exclaimed an old bald-headed Georgia darkey the other day, when some of the young bucks got after him for saying he intended voting the Democratic ticket, "dis foolishness done gone far enough. When de 'Publicans 'lected Gen. Grant, old Tony (pointing to himself) marched up wid a keard wot had de General's name and picter on it, and put de keard in de little hole in de box. From dat time up to now, yoah uncle Tony hain't seed noffin' to make sure of de envelopements ob de high state of prostitution de white gemmen from Elinois told me was gwine to be divided for de culled race, and dats wot makes me say wot I do say when I 'form you dat Tony's gwine to 'scipicate de kindness shown him by de white gemmen dat's dissolved to knock de stuffin' out ob de 'Publicans dis commin' winter." And he hobbled away, wiping the perspiration from his forehead with a cotton "handkerchief," upon which were printed the portraits of Hayes and Wheeler.

Mathematical.

"Want to make out that twice one's four, in this place, do they?" growled Old Smashpipes, as he sat with Green Turtle waiting for his oysters.

"How do you make that out?" asked the gentle Turtle.

"Why, nobody seems inclined to contradict that boy. And if what he says is true, why then twice one's four, or my name's not O. S."

"Didn't notice what he said," replied G. T.

"Why he shouted down that elevator, 'One's-tew!'"

"Sold again!" murmured the Turtle, and said no more.

"THEY NEVER MET AGAIN."

A Touching Story of the Lover's Parting.

It was late. The leaden sceptre of the sable goddess was stretched above the slumbering world, and yet they stood at the old front gate, and he wound a protecting arm around her lithe form to shield her from the falling dews. Her exquisite head dropped upon his shoulder and the love light shone in her lustrous eyes. It was now or never. He would know his fate, be it bliss or misery. He pointed to a star, not one of the terrible shooting stars that crowd the cemeteries of Burlington with their unburied slain, oh no, not one of those destroying angels, but one of those fixed, glittering orbs that know their places and stay in them; and spoke: "Darling, by yon bright orb I swear—" "Oh, don't say that," she murmured, and her voice was like the sound of flutes upon the water, "Leander Smith said that, and he ran away and married his uncle's kitchen girl the very next week." "Dear one," he resumed, "by the blue arching dome that bends above, I——" "Oh, no," she sighed, rubbing a prescription of Laird's Bloom of Youth upon his cassimere shoulder, "don't say that please; Orestus Johnson said that, and just think, pa found out before the affair went very far, that he had two wives in Indiana." "My own," he once more cried, "by every whispering breeze that touches with its balmy kiss the sleeping flowers, I—" "O, please, please, don't say that," she said, in pleading tones. "Mr. Trevelyan La Rouke said that, and, do you know, it turned out that he was a waiter in a Water street restaurant and he came up one evening dreadfully intoxicated, when we had company, and burst into the parlor and shouted to pa to set out 'Large plate beefancabbage welldonannogravy potatoesmashed one plate liveranonions, cornbeefash connect two and blackberry both!' Oh, don't say that; it sounds dreadful to me." "Day star of me life," he tried, "bright gem of—" "Oh, no, no, no," she sighed wearily, "not that, Mr. Van Tresslewick said that, "and the next we saw him at the circus in a suit of red and white stuff, sitting in the middle of a saw dust ring, tying his legs in a bow knot around his neck and crawling through a hoop not half big enough for him. Oh, anything but that." "Well, then," he said in despair, it'll be nothing, for I'll be dad binged if I've had time to learn any more. I ain't a walkin' lover's dictionary." "Sir-r-r!" she said, assuming an erect posture. "Madam," he said, stifly, "adieu." She went into the house with a face like the shield that was white on one side and brown on the other, and he strode down the sidewalk with one shoulder, looking like a whitewasher's advertisement, and a long curl of raven hue hanging to the collar of his coat. They never met again.—Hawkeye.

ORIGIN OF SLANG PHRASES.

Some of the Most Familiar Sayings Done into Rhyme.

When did the first slang phrase come into use, and where do they originate? It is astonishing with what rapidity they circulate among the boys—and we might say girls—from Maine to California. The limits of this article forbid the enumeration of a tithe of the vocabulary; but whoever passes a group of boys will be likely to hear some of the following:

"Brace up and have some style about you."
And "How is that for high?"
"Shoot that" or "Cheese it,"
Then tell them to "Mind your eye."
"He's a sick pill of misery."
And "Don't you forget it."
"They've gone up spout;" "You'd better sell out."
And "Give us a rest on it."
"I'll put a tin ear on you."
"You know how it is yourself."
"Wipe off your chin, and pull down your vest."
"Not if I know myself."
"That's the matter with Hannah."
"Or any other man"
"That's too thin." "Bully for you."
And "Beat that if you can."
"You'd better sell out" and "Go West,"
Or "I'll put a head on you."
"I ain't that kind of a hairpin."
And these are only a few.

"Boss" is a complimentary term applied to anything from a President to a potato. These and many others are more familiar to the youth of to-day than good plain English, and express their ideas more intelligibly.

Can it be that there exists an underground telegraph, which transmits this slang all over the country with lightning speed? The boys show more aptitude in learning it than they do their—Catechism, to say the least.

If these phrases increase in the years to come, as they have in the past, what will our language be at the Bi-Centennial of the nation?

An Indian's Last Shot.

On Monday morning, August 21, four white men, while out hunting, about two miles from Deadwood, killed a deer, and while they were skinning it, one of them saw an Indian approaching them, leading his pony. He was probably trying to surprise them, but, being uncertain of their exact position, he had approached too near, and they discovered him first. One of the party snatched up his shotgun, loaded with buck shot, and fired both barrels, bringing down the Indian and his pony. The confident manner in which the Indian had walked toward them had led them to suppose that he was supported by a number of others, and so they quickly retreated toward Deadwood for reinforcements. A party started out to scout the country, and on reaching the spot where the deer lay, the men saw the body of the Indian by the side of his pony, and, thinking him dead, they rushed forward. This action was fatal to one of the party, for a shot from the Indian's rifle struck him in the heart. A volley from the others killed the Indian instantly, however, and his body was quickly surrounded by the white men. The Indian had been almost riddled with buckshot, one shoulder and both legs having been broken, yet he had managed to bandage his legs and to take unerring aim with his wounded arm. Knowing that his life would be taken without doubt, he had prepared to sell it as dearly as possible, and, lying on his back, he rested his rifle on his wounded legs and shot dead the foremost of his assailants. In his mouth was another cartridge ready to reload. His rifle was the best and latest breech-loading arm issued to the army in 1875, and it was probable that he had obtained it in the Custer or Reno fight, since an old bullet mark in the grip of the stock showed that it had been in action.—Black Hills Pioneer.

An Absent-Minded Conductor.

One of the most extraordinary cases of absent-mindedness on record is that which, we are told, occurred a day or two ago to Conductor George Kisselbrook, on the Duchess and Columbia railroad. His train arrived at Milbrook, going east, at its usual time, and the conductor, as usual, politely assisted his lady passengers to alight, and those intending to take his train aboard. He then gave the engineer the signal to start, and after so doing stepped back and took a seat on the stoop of the depot. There he coolly remained, and as composedly watched his train haul away from him. Before he realized his predicament the train was half a mile off and around the curve. He then exclaimed, "Oh, thunder! I am left by my own train!" and sure enough he was. He then hired a wagon and was driven over to the Harlem railroad, where he took a train for Millerton. This was a speedy route for him to take, as he arrived at Millerton at 8:20 p. m., instead of 12:35 p. m., the time for his own train to arrive. As Superintendent Kimball, who is an old conductor, happended to be on the train, it proceeded on without any detention or difficulty. The cause of George's absent-mindedness just as the train moved away from Millbrook is said to be the recollection of a little sport he once had while picking cherries with some young ladies. He became so interested in thinking of the occasion that he became oblivious of everything that was going on about him."—Newburg (N. Y.) Journal.

A Domestic Circumstance.

It is hard, says the Burlington Hawkeye, to fight against the fates. A man out on West Hill left his stove up all Summer so he wouldn't have to wrestle with it this Fall; and yesterday they made a fire in the stove, and he went off chuckling with complacent glee. And the smoke came out of the stove door in clouds; it rolled out around the plate, it puffed out of every joint in the pipe, and oozed out of little cracks and seams that the wind couldn't blow through; and it went all through the house and smoked the new paper, and stained the curtains and spoiled the picture frames and got into the soup for dinner and weakened the eyes and spoiled the tempers of the family. And when the man came home he found that the chimney swallows had began at the bottom of that chimney and built it clear up to the top so solid with nests that not a curl of smoke had been able to crawl through it, and the man stood on the roof half a day going down into that chimney with a post augur. And he had to take down his stove and take all the pipe apart, and it got mixed up so that he won't be able to get it together before warm weather, and the roof is covered with clay, and the eaves trough is full of mud and the cistern tastes of smoked clay and the chimney swallow, and the man has gone to the bad and taken to chewing gum, and says he will never again fly in the face of Providence.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
FRIDAY, September 22, 1876. }

The tide is turning in monetary and mercantile circles, and the demand for money and bank favors is steadily though slowly improving, while the trade among wholesale dealers is getting more active, and retailers are receiving a little more patronage Manufacturers report a better feeling and the number of orders increasing. Money is plenty enough for all practical purposes, and good paper is in demand at our leading discount houses at 8@10 per cent. per annum. On the streets brokers quote at 6 per cent. and upward. The city deposits keep up, and collections likewise.

AN ENGLISH OPINION OF THE AMERICAN DEBT.

The London Spectator of Sempetember 2, just at hand, has an editorial on the United States debt, in which it warmly commends the results of recent American finance, while disapproving of its method. It remarks:

Some ten months ago the Secretary of the Treasury disposed of the last portion of the authorized 5 per cent. issue, calling in an equivalent amount of 6 per cent. 5-20 bonds. The 5 per cent now established themselves as one of the soundest of investments, and the Washington Treasury Department was lately advised by the highest financial authorities in the United States that the issue of the 4½ per cents might be profitably undertaken, in the present state of the money-market. Accordingly, arrangements were made with a "Syndicate" of financial firms for placing the new loan in Europe, and subscriptions have been invited at 103½, the prise at which the 5 per cent. bonds were currently quoted in Europe less than a year ago. There is little doubt that the whole of this issue of bonds will be speedily taken up, and will replace about one-third of the unredeemed 5-20s. The credit of the Union will then be near the point at which the remainder of the "5-20s" will be refunded in 4 per cent. bonds. This is a magnificent result of persistence in a fixed purpose, for American finance has been wretchedly unscientific, and its only quality which deserved, as it has won success, was the dogged perseverance with which people and Treasury alike insisted that a national debt should not be a permanent institution.

FINANCIAL DROPSY.

The doctors tell us that in dropsy the fluids of the system, instead of circulating freely through their natural channels, collect in sacks, obstruct vital action and finally produce death. The same abnormal condition exists in the money affairs of this country. There is no real scarcity of money, but it is piled away in banks and bonds and the iron safes of capitalists. With the crash that came three years ago, confidence gave place to universal distrust, the circulating medium of the country was withdrawn from its natural channels, capitalists were afraid to invest in real estate or in the prosecution of great enterprises, the whole business of the country was depressed, money stagnated in pools, and became inaccessible to the millions of workers, many of whom were transformed into tramps and beggars, and bad grew to worse in every branch of trade or useful industry. But confidence is beginning to return, more public works are being constructed, more of the idle find employment, and, with the same hopeful spirit continued and increased, the whole country will soon be restored to its normal condition of general prosperity. The inflated prices of the war times will not return, but both food and labor will accommodate themselves to existing circumstances; the dropsical symptoms will disappear, the money will circulate through all channels of trade and industry, and the great body politic, the sick patient, will be restored to perfet health and vigor. —St. Louis Dispatch.

NEW ENGLAND MANUFACTURING STOCKS.

Manufacturing stocks in New England have hardly yet felt the impulse of the better times. The Boston Journal of Commerce, of the 16th inst., says: Another dull week and few transactions. It may be that stocks are not so much pressed on the market, but, with rare exceptions, the demand has not increased. We note that Bates has advanced to 72 1-2. This is the first public sale since May 13, at 68 3-4, and at the price of to-day the stock is very cheap with anything like fair times. Boott, always a favorite, has gained from 1,330, June 14, to 1,445; but this appears to be the extent of improvement. Atlantic Mills (new) declined from 100 to 98 for two shares, and the old stock remains at 19 1-4, though only scattering shares are to be had. Dwight at 350, and Lyman, 60, are unchanged. Newmarket declined from 452 1-2, July 26, to 449; Pepperell, 717 1-2 to 715; and Sandwich Glass, 40 to 30 per share, but it is doubtful if much stock could be had at this low figure.

OUR EXPORT TRADE.

The following shows the exports (exslusive of specie) from the port of New York to foreign ports for the week ending September 19 and since the beginning of the year:

	1874.	1875.	1876.
For the week	$4,354,724	$4,628,232	$5,422,47
Previously reported	208,326,021	176,722,155	185,544,953
To'l since January 1	$212,680,745	$181,342,387	$190,967,424

CALLING IN BONDS.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, at their meeting a few days ago passed a resolution calling for redemption, January 1, 1877, $125,000 of their mortgage sinking fund; 800,000 of said bonds have been heretofore redeemed by the sinking fund, making a total with this call of $925,000 paid from the proceeds of land sales and interest on investment of the sinking fund.

THE 4½ PER CENTS.

Washington dispatches report $1,200,000 in 4½ per cent. bonds deposited as security for bank notes, in place of 5 per cents (10-40s and 1881s), since Saturday. This makes about $4,100,000 of the 4½ per cents already used by national banks in this manner.

NEW YORK, September 21, 1876.

Money closed easy at 1½@2; prime mercantile paper 5@6. The customs receipts were $281,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $59,000. The clearings were $23,000,000. Sterling was quiet at 483@485. Gold closed at 109⅝, with sales during the day at 109⅝@110. The borrowing rates were 1 to 3. Loans were also made flat. Governments were weak. Railroad bonds were strong. In State bonds this afternoon there were some large transactions, in Missouri long 6s $146,000 changing hands at 107⅞@108. This large amount of bonds was taken for German account, and will be shipped to the other side. This, in connection with the recent purchases of some Western railroad bonds for Amsterdam and the late subscriptions to the 4½ per cent. loan on the other side, shows a reviving demand in Europe for good American securities. The stock market in the afternoon was strong, and the general list advanced ¼ to 1½, the latter New York Central. The next largest advance was in Rock Island, ½, and next in Western Union, ⅜. In coal stocks Delaware & Hudson advanced from 67 to 70. Lackawanna, after the early decline, became steady at about the opening rates. New Jersey Central advanced from 26 to 27⅜. In the afternoon Michigan Central rose from 41½ to 42, but subsequently reacted to 41½. New York Central fell off 1½, St. Paul ½ and coal stock ⅛@⅛, the latter New Jersey Central. At the close the market was steady, and at the decline closing prices show an advance of ⅛@2½ per cent. over yesterday's closing, except New York Central and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, which were lower.

The stockholders of the Michigan Central have prepared a petition to the directors of the road, requesting them not to haul return freight over their road except at paying rates, and also requesting them to have refunded any moneys paid to the leased roads, and asking them to see that all leased road bonds guaranteed by the Michigan Central take care of themselves and pay their own interest. If the directors refuse to comply with the requests of the stockholders the matter will be brought before the courts, both here and in Michigan. It is claimed that about four million dollars have been paid by the Michigan Central to leased roads which belonged to the present stockholders, and if the leases are cancelled the road can earn 8 per cent. on its present capital.

The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 100,000 shares, of which 11,000 were Western Union, 4,500 Rock Island, 3,000 St. Pauls, 15,000 Lake Shore, 5,500 New York Central, 3,000 Ohios, 3,000 Wabash, 14,000 Michigan Central, 24,000 New Jersey Central, and 11,000 Delaware, Lackawanna & Western.

Three hundred thousand dollars in 10-40 and 5-20 bonds were to-day withdrawn from the Treasury, and an equal amount of 4½ per cents substituted as security for national bank note circulation.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, September 21, 1876. }

The markets generally continue fairly active and prices of several of the leading articles have an upward tendency. Flour continues firm with an increasing demand. Wheat is scarce and prime winter is looking upward. Corn and Oats also firmer. Petroleum is easier and prices are lower. Provision business is only fair and prices unsettled, with a downward tendency. There is more doing in Pig Iron and it is firmer. Wool, although quiet, is firm, and the stock in first hands is pretty well reduced.

Our exchanges generally continue to report favorable symptoms of a general revival of business throughout the country, and there is no question but the feeling, both in mercantile and manufacturing circles, is better.

APPLES—The supply in our market, although not large is fully equal to the demand, and prices are no better; ranging from $1 to 1,50 ⅌ bbl.

ALE—There is no change to note in prices and trade is generally reported dull, like everything else, affected by the hard times. X $8 ⅌ bbl to the city and $9 to country; XX $10; India $11. half bbls in proportion.

ASHES—High test Soda Ash, 3a3¼; low test, 2¾a2⅞; Manganese, 6a6½; Arsenic, 5c; Nitrate Soda, 3½a3¾; Fluor Spar, 1¾a2; Black Lead, 3¾a4.

BUTTER—The supply of strictly choice table Butter is light, scarcely equal to the demand, but there is an abundance of all other grades, and with the exception named, the market is dull. Prime to choice roll, 25a27c; do creamery, 30a32; solid packed 22a25c; common to good, 15a20; inferior, 8a12.

BROOM CORN—Choice hurl in fair demand, with sales at 7 to 8½; as to quality; brush that will work up, 6a6½; medium green, 5½a6; red tipped, 5a5½; inferior, 3a4; crocked, 3a3½.

BEANS—Quoted nominall at 90ca$1 ⅌ bu, and dull.

BROOMS—The demand is brisk at the recent decline, and manufacturers report plenty of orders. We quote "Union" factory as follows:

No 1 Hurl—plain handle	$1,50
No 2 Hurl do	1,75
No 3 Hurl—painted	2,00
No 4 Hurl do	2,50

CEMENT, &C., &C.—There is a fair business within the range of the following quotations: Cement—Rosendale, $2,50a2,75; New Lisbon, $1,80a2,05; Portland, $6a7 ⅌ bbl; Youghiogheny, $1,75a2; Louisville, $1,90a2,10. Calcined Plaster —French's $3,75a4; Land Plaster, $2,25a2,50. Lime, $1,35a1,50. White Sand, $1,40a1,50 ⅌ bbl.

COOPERAGE—Oil barrel cooperage less active and prices easier. Best Indiana matched oil barrel staves, $32; do. alone, $30; do. Heading, $35; green; dry, $40; West Virginia long bucked staves, $22a25; do. rough, $20a22. Oil Barrels unchanged countries, $1,30, city make, $1,45a1,50.

CHEESE—There is an increasing demand, and the market is reported firm at the recent advance; we continue to quote August make at 11½a12c to the wholesale trade, and 12½a13 in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—There is no demand whatever for domestic, but some little inquiry for foreign, including Prunes and Raisins.

EGGS—The market has been irregular for some days past; some dealers report that they are getting 22c, while others are selling at 18a19c.

FISH—Following are the current rates in a jobbing way:

FLOUR—The market for this important staple continues firm, and within the past week there has been a general advance of fully 25c per bbl, and we are still too low, taking the cost at the source of supply into consideration. A New York paper, of Wednesday, says: Nearly all grades of Wheat flour have met with a readier sale for export and home use, as noted in our special daily reports from day to day, at a further general and important improvement in prices, spring wheat brands and low grade winter wheat extras of desirable quality showing the most decided gain in this respect. In the export line the demand has been quite comprehensive, extending to the Provincial, West India and South American connections. From the English trade the call has been in good part for sour extras, particularly of stock available at from $4,25a5. Rye flour was quoted higher and in fair request. Corn meal has been moderately dealt in at unchanged figures. On Friday the opening sale of new buckwheat flour for the season was made in this market, embracing a small lot of State from East Worcester (Osewego Co.) at $4 per 100 pounds.

GROCERIES—Coffee continues firm for prime grades, which are very scarce on the seaboard, but common grades are in good supply, and very dull, as the inquiry is chiefly for the former. The statistical position of the market at the present time is favorable to sellers, but some well informed operators, in view of the fact that large receipts of new crop are due at the seaboard within the next 20 or 30 days, have not much faith in the immediate future of the market. Sugars continue offish; refined white have dropped ⅛ to ¼ within the past week, and the decline on yellows has been still greater. Molasses, Syrups and Teas, are in fair demand and firmer.

GRAPES—Quoted at 3a6c per lb.

GRAIN—The demand for Wheat is increasing, and with light receipts and a limited supply prices are firmer and tending upward. Penna. and Ohio red winter, $1,15a1,18; do amber, $1,20a1,22; do white, $1,23a1,25. Good straight red is more inquired for, and sells more readily in this market than white. The Chicago market holds up much better than was generally expected, as the rise there was attributed largely to speculation. The Oat market continues firm, with a supply unequal to the demand, and prices are tending upward; quoted at 35a36c for mixed, and 37a38 for white. Corn both Ear and Shelled in light supply and firmer; former quoted at 52a54; and latter at 53a54. Rye is steady at 63a65.

HAY—The market is firm but unchanged; loose from country wagons, $10a15, as to quality and condition. Baled is quoted at $13a15 for good to prime Timothy.

MILL FEED—Bran scarce and higher, $12a12,54 ⅌ ton, on track. Middlings quoted at $19a21, and Shorts at $14a16.

ONIONS—In good demand and higher; $2,50a3 ⅌ bbl.

OILS—Extra winter strained Lard oil, in view of the cold weather, is in better demand at 95; current make, 82a84c; No. 1 and 2 unchanged, the latter being held at 60a65. Jno. V. Lewis & Co.'s White and Yellow Winter Miners' oil has advanced 3c ⅌ gallon at the point of production and tending upward. The market remains unchanged at 60 for White and 57 for Yellow, but the market will move up soon. Linseed oil, raw, 54; boiled, 59. Carbon firm at 23a25c.

POTATOES—Irish continue scarce, and prices are still maintained; Peach Blows quoted at 70a75c ⅌ bu. Sweets quotable at $3a3,50 ⅌ bbl for Baltimores, and $3,75a4 ⅌ bbl for Jerseys.

PEACHES—In light supply and prices are higher; $2a2,50 per box, as to quality and condition.

POULTRY—Live chickens by the coop 35a45c ⅌ pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued fair demand and prices are weak, although unchanged.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

ARRIVALS.

Following shows the arrivals of each day during the past week, as well as the aggregate, and the aggregate of the preceding week:

Cattle.

Last week	244 "	250 "	105 "	88 "

CATTLE.

The run of local cattle during the past week was larger than during any preceding week this year, 266 cars, but, notwithstanding the supply was unusually heavy there were very few shipped on in first hands, and it is evident, therefore, that the demand was equal to the supply. That the volume of business was heavy is evident from the fact that the sales footed up in the aggregate 4,501 head, or about 1,000 more than the average for several months, and while common grades of butcher cattle, of which there was a very heavy supply, ruled 15a25c per cwt lower, good stockers and feeders, as well as prime shipping cattle, brought fully as much as they did last week.

The market to-day was even better for prime shipping grades than it was on either Tuesday or Wednesday, and there were more of this character on sale than on any preceding day during the week. A number of droves of prime to extra Ohio and Kentucky cattle arrived last night, but they met with ready sale to-day, and that, too, at full prices. Included in the sales were the following: John Judy to L. Shamberg & Co., 5 cars of extra 1,500 lb Kentucky steers at 5¾; Hamilton, Loughrey & Co. to same buyers, 4 cars of prime Southern Ohios—1,475 lbs—at 5,35; Holmes, Lafferty & Co. sold 3 cars of prime, 1,375 lb. Ohios at 5,25. Jacob Needy sold 2 cars of extra shipping cattle—earlier in the week—at 5¾c. Common butcher cattle, however, as already stated, in consequence of the heavy supply, ruled lower, but at the decline they were all or nearly so picked up.

The market, taking the very heavy supply into consideration, was even better than the trade had a right to expect, and we think that operators generally were very well satisfied. It is worthy of notice that there is not the same disposition on the part of western men to ship on that there has been, as they have discovered that, as a rule, they can sell to better advantage here than by going further east. There has been a good attendance of buyers here all season, and both Philadelphia and New York buyers have paid all, sometimes more, that their markets would afford. Moreover, we have had a large attendance of country buyers, from the eastern part of the state, the most of whom buy the common grades of cattle, and stock of this character has been bringing as much here as could be obtained for them in Philadelphia or New York, thereby saving the owners a week's time, cost of freightage, commissions, feed bills, and other incidental expenses.

QUOTATIONS.

Prime 1,400a1,500 steers	5,25a5,50
Good 1,200a1,300 steers	4,65a5,00
Fair 1,000a1,100 steers	4,25a4,50
Stockers and feeders	3,00a4,00
Bulls, Cows and Stags	2,50a3,50

SHEEP.

The arrivals during the early part of the week were small, and, as a general thing, common in point of quality; the receipts last night and this forenoon were larger, 32 cars, but, so far as we could learn, there was no improvement in quality. With a supply of common and medium grades fully up to the demand there was no improvement in prices, but prime fat stock being scarce brought an advance of 15a20c per cwt. It is but proper to state, however, that the general tone of the market to-day was scarcely as strong as it was on Tuesday and Wednesday, even for good stock, in consequence of unfavorable reports from New York, and then the Philadelphia buyers had obtained about all they wanted yesterday. Common grades have been dull for some time past and trade unsatisfactory to owners, as the rates prevailing are very low and afford no margin for profit; the fact is they are not wanted, and we would advise those of our friends in the country to keep their scalawags at home unless they are prepared to accept scalawag prices. Good stock Ewes in fair demand, and good Lambs, being a little scarce, are more sought after and bringing rather better prices.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 95a100 lbs	4,85a5,15
Prime 85a90 lbs	4,65a4,75
Good 75a80 lbs	4,25a4,50
Fair 70a75 lbs	3,75a4,00
Common 70a80 lbs	3,25a3,50
Lambs, 40a60 lbs	4,00a5,00

HOGS.

The supply during the week under review has been much larger than that of last week, but the great proportion of the offerings were rather common in point of quality. As compared with this day week, Yorkers are down fully 50c ⅌ cwt, and Philadelphia hogs 15a20c. To-day there was a better feeling, the supply being light and the advices from Chicago more favorable, but there was no improvement in prices. The course of the market during the remainder of the week will depend upon the arrivals; but at the present writing the situation is more faverable to holders than it was on either Tuesday or Wednesday.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, September 21, 1875. }

The Crude market was firmer to-day, and prices, as compared with yesterday, were considerably better. United certificates were quoted this afternoon at $3,71¼ and immediate shipment, $3,75a3,80. The undertone of the market has been unfavorable to holders for some days past, although no very satisfactory cause can be assigned therefor.

Refined quiet and unchanged; Philadelphia delivery, quoted at 16, although it is said that the real market price is 1c less, or 21c on cars here; in other words, that there are no buyers above last named quotations.

It was reported to-day that the Penna. R. R. Co., will advance freights to $2, to take effect the 1st of October.

The Barrel market is unchanged; countries, $1,30; city make still held at 1,50, but there are no buyers.

Grain in Store in Chicago.

The following were the amounts of grain in store on the dates named, as reported by the State Registrar of Grain:

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, September 21.—The package trade in prints, ginghams and dress goods is active, and cotton goods are in steady request. Prints were strong, and Simpson's, Allen's, Bristol, Garner's, Gloucester, Eddystone and Union were advanced to-day. Glasgow and Plunkett ginghams are lower. Printed reps are jobbing at low prices, but in old styles. Woolen goods are in moderate request. Foreign goods are in fair demand.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, September 21.—Cotton firm at 11⅝a11 7-16c; futures steady; September 11 11-32c; October 11 7-32a11⅛c; November 11¼a11 9-32c; December 11 9-32aa11 3-16c; January 11 7-16a11 15-32c.

THE WOOL TRADE.

New York.

In all essential particulars the general market for domestic fleeces is much the same as noted for several reports past. Holders on all grades are very firm and apparently quite confident, the offerings of stock proving small, and the moment demand tends toward any particular grade there is a withdrawal. Buyers, however, are not in an over-anxious mood, and while admitting that under present circumstances they cannot purchase goods except at extreme rates, they do not propose to pay extreme rates until compelled to by known necessities. In short, the cost seems to have run high enough to check and curtail speculative tendencies and bring the demand down more closely to the current wants of dealers and manufacturers. In view of supplies already secured, the mills do not require many additions to their accumulations for the present, and the prospects of demand when the amounts now on hand are worked up are somewhat ambiguous. There is yet a failure on the goods market to show a full response to increased cost of material, and now that the excitement over wool has toned down somewhat a more general inclination to move with caution is shown. Fine fleeces continue to be the grade upon which most interest is concentrated, and if any speculative tendencies are developed it is pretty sure to be on XX to combing and delaine selections Spring California is not plenty in first hands, and Texas is also in reduced stock. Foreign wools are quiet and without new features worthy of note.—Bulletin.

Philadelphia.

The volume of business has been only mcderate, but a firm tone has prevailed. The manufacturers are for the moment fairly well supplied, hence the demand from this source is by no means active. Fine wools, on account of their scarcity, are held with confidence. About 800,000 pounds sold at the following prices: Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia fleeces—XX and above, 40a42c; X, 40a41c, ½-blood, 40c; ¼-blood, 35c; fine unwashed, 23a24; medium unwashed, 29a30c. Combing—washed fleece, 47a50; unwashed fleece, 35a36 New York, Michigan and Wisconsin—XX and above, 35a37; X, 34a35; ½-blood, 36a37; ¼-blood, 35c.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

THE water in the river continues to recede rapidly at this point, with 10 feet by the marks last evening. Cloudy and warm, with indications of rain.

COMMODORE Wm. J. Kountz has gone east.

THE Exchange is en route from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh.

CAPT. I. R. WHITTAKER has gone to visit the Centennial.

THE Ark, Coal City and Storm, departed yesterday with tows of coal.

THE U. S. snagboat E. A. Woodruff, is still at Glass House waiting for the water to fall.

THE Granite State was due from Portsmouth last evening, and will depart to-day at 4 P. M.

BILLY WILLIAMS, a well-known Arkansas River pilot, died at Little Rock, on Tuesday.

THE Katie P. Kountz and Mary Miler, were loading at St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Tuesday.

PILOT Joseph W. McDonald died at his residence in Allegheny, Wednesday evening, after a brief illness.

MR. CHRIS OFFENLANDER, one of the St. Louis steamboat inspectors, died at that place on Monday night.

THE steamer M. Livingston left Yankton Thursday, of last week, for Ft. Pierre, with a full load of freight.

THE Alice Brown arrived from Cincinnati yesterday morning flying light. She will take out a tow of coal.

THE new steamer Hard Cash, Capt. Jas. Rees, will positively depart for Memphis and White river to-morrow.

THE Salt Valley, Captain Dewolfe, is due from Ironton on Monday, and will depart on Monday at 4 P. M.

CAPT. Jno. Todd will immediately commence the construction of ways in Yankton for the repair of the Coulson Line of steamers.

THE J. H. Bigley, Jno. Dippold, Charley McDonald and Coal Hill, arrived at Louisville on Tuesday. The Bigley goes below.

CAPT. John Wherry, an old Pittsburgher, but who for some years past has made St. Louis his base of operations, is here on a visit.

JOE PAULINE, steward of the Upper Missouri steamer Western, writes that his scalp is still in the right place. Capt. Wm. Coulson is now in command of the Western.

THE chimneys of the steamer Express struck a telegraph wire at Bellaire and were knocked down. The wire had been sprung by catching on the Fanchon's chimneys Tuesday night. But little damage was done to the Fanchon.

CAPT. J. P. SMITH, Democratic candidate for Senate in the Allegheny district, was called upon for a speech at a meeting in Allegheny on Wednesday. Jehu responded by saying that speech-making was not in his line, although an important qualification for a Senator. It is not at all likely that Jehu will be asked to go to Harrisburg, for the present at least.

A POMEROY special to the Wheeling Intelligencer, under date of Wednesday, says: The propeller J. N. Roberts, owned by Capt. W. A. Roberts, of Letart Falls, exploded her boilers while lying at the wharf at this city, this afternoon at 1 o'clock, and the wreck sunk within fifteen minutes afterward. Six persons were injured, one fatally. The Captain, Chas. Roberts, was blown out into the river, but was caught and hauled ashore with a pike pole. The engineer, pilot and clerk were seriously hurt but were taken out of the wreck and will recover. There were only two passengers on board, Stephen Chapman, of Appegate, O., and George Myers, of Wheeling, the former had his leg broken, and the latter received injuries in his back from which he died at 5 o'clock this morning. The J. N. Roberts was a new boat, having been built last spring, and was running between Middleport and Ripley Landing. She was supposed to be worth about $5,000, on which there was no insurance.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PROFESSIONAL NOTICE.

Drs. Jordan and Davieson

Principals of the Institution of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Lecturers on Anatomy, Physiology and Science, inform their friends and patients that they have again opened a branch office for the practice of their profession at No. 2 EIGHTH STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA., where one of the firm may be confidentially consulted, more especially in all those cases of diseases and debility, for the treatment of which they are so justly celebrated. It is too well known that hundreds, nay thousands suffer from the effects of early indiscretion and seek in vain for relief, for none but the educated physician who has made these subjects a specialty is likely to succeed in restoring the patient to health and strength. To all such Drs. Jordan and Davieson offer certain and speedy relief, and undertake no cases but those in which they are able to guarantee a safe, certain and permanent cure. Their important Medical Work may be had from their office, No. 2 Eighth street, on receipt of 25 cents, and also as usual from their head establishment, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia. Hours of consultation from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M., and from 5 P. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. Every case is strictly confidential. d&S

DR. WHITTIER,

Founder and Proprietor of the

Keystone Dispensary

302 Penn Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.,

Continues to afford reliable special treatment in all Private, Nervous and Urinary Diseases.

Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or sexual excess, producing nervous debility, night emissions, despondency, dizziness, dimness of sight, pimples on the face, weakness of mind and body, and finally impotency, loss of sexual power, sterility, &c., unfitting the victim for marriage or business, and rendering life miserable, are permanently cured in shortest possible time. Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, all urinary diseases and Syphilis (all forms), consisting of skin eruptions, ulcers, &c., are perfectly cured, and the blood poison thoroughly eradicated from the system. Cures guaranteed.

Dr. WHITTIER is a regular graduate of medicine, as his diploma at office shows; his life-long special experience in all private diseases, with purest medicines prepared by himself, enables him to cure difficult cases after others fail—it is self-evident that a physician treating thousands of cases every year acquires great skill. Consultation and correspondence private and free. Pamphlet sent sealed for stamp. Medicines sent everywhere, by mail or express.

Office-hours—9 A. M. to 4 P. M. and 6 to 8 P. M. Sundays, 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. only.

Base Ball Notes.

At Union Park yesterday the Louisvilles again defeated the Alleghenys by a score of 7 to 2. Repeating their performance of the day before, the visitors made six of their seven runs in the first inning, but this time they did it on two base hits, the errors of the Alleghenys helping them to increase the score.

Fatal Accident.

Roger Waller, employed at Painter's Mill, on the South Side, while engaged in unloading a barge of iron, received injuries resulting in his almost instant death yesterday. He was hoisting the iron out with a crane, when the rope gave way, and the iron falling, struck him on the head. The Coroner was notified last evening, and will hold an inquest on the body this morning.

Amusements To-Night.

Pittsburgh Opera House—Benefit of Miss Clara Belden, when she will appear again as Rosalind in "As You Like It."

Library Hall.—Benefit of Effie Ellsler, who will impersonate Stella Gordon in "Clouds."

Novelty Theater.—A fine olio performance by a good company, including Williams, Lang, Miss Jennie Hughes and others.

Oil Freight Rates.

Mr. D. A. Cunningham, General Freight Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, informs us that, taking effect on October 1st prox., the rates on petroleum from refineries on the West Penn and Allegheny Valley Railroads at owners risk will be as follows:

To New York ....$2.15 per barrel.
" Phila. and Baltimore... 2 00 " "

Oil carried at the company's risk will be charged fifteen cents per barrel more than these rates. No rebate or allowance of any kind will be made from these rates.

What a Fraud He Was.

During the past few weeks a man has been performing a little swindling operation in Allegheny. He represented himself as a member of a New York firm, Ecker & Co., that deals in ladies patterns and issues a fashion magazine. He engaged a number of young lady canvassers to solicit subscribers for the magazine. A large number of subscribers were obtained, the subscription price received and a day or two ago the man disappeared suddenly. The firm in New York being notified of the affair telegraphed to one of the canvassers that the man was a fraud.

A SLIGHT BLAZE.

Fire on Brownsville Avenue.

About half past twelve o'clock this morning a fire occurred in a two story frame house on Brownsville avenue, at the head of Eighth street, and the building and furniture of the occupants was entirely destroyed. There were but two rooms in the house, one on each floor, and the occupants, Mr. John Haley, his wife and two children, were sleeping in the upper room. Mrs. Haley was awakened by her child, and heard the flames cracking in the room below. She awoke her husband and they had barely time to escape with the children, before the fire reached the stairway. The building was owned by Anthony Mehaffy, and the loss was estimated at about $500.

A MISSING MAN.

D. Rosensteel, Formerly a Policeman, Supposed to Have Been Drowned.

On Wednesday last Mr. D. Rosensteel, who served on the police force during Mayor Blackmore's administration, and was subsequently employed as officer at the Connellsville railroad depot, and another man were engaged in pumping the water out of one of Fawcett & Son's coal boats in the Monongahela river near Soho. During the afternoon Rosensteel's companion was called away from the boat for a short time and left Rosensteel at work; when he returned Rosensteel was gone, but his coat and hat were hanging where they had been all afternoon, and notwithstanding diligent search has been made for the missing man no trace of him has been discovered since that time. The supposition is that he fell from the boat into the river and was drowned.

A WAIF.

An Infant Abandoned in the Allegheny Park.

Last evening about seven o'clock Leonard Snyder saw a woman place a bundle on the grass in the Allegheny Park, below Stockton avenue, about fifty feet west of Federal street, and then quickly walk off. Soon afterward he noticed the bundle moving, and on approaching it found a babe wrapped in a coarse shawl. He at once removed it to the Mayor's office and told what he had seen. The babe is a male about ten days old. The officers were considerably perplexed as to what should be done with the infant, but finally officer Frank Campbell took charge of it and removed it to his house on Jackson street. In the meantime an effort was made to find the heartless mother, but it was unsuccessful. During the afternoon Officer Geary states that he saw this same child at a tavern kept at the corner of Anderson street and River avenue by Mrs Jones, where the mother had stopped to rest and had placed it in Mrs. Jones' arms. He describes the woman as being young and of very respectable appearance. Possibly some clue to her whereabouts will be found to-day.

A HAPPY MAN.

He is Not Robbed—Thieves' Calendar.

Mr. Samuel McKennan, a resident of Allegheny, but formerly an oil operator, was on this side of the river on Wednesday evening. After perambulating the city for some time, he called upon Chief Hartzell, and informed that officer that he had been robbed of a pocket-book containing $2,000 in four $500 bills, and $800 in checks. He said he had been with one man all evening, and believed that the individual in question had committed the robbery. He described the man, and after a search he was arrested and locked up, but no trace of the stolen articles could be found upon him.

Yesterday morning Mr. McKenna called again, and said that he had found the money between the leaves of an old memorandum book in his coat pocket, where he had placed it and forgotten about it. The other book, with the checks, was still missing. Payment was stopped upon them, however, and Mr. McKenna will suffer no loss. There being no evidence against the arrested man, he was released last evening.

But while the supposed thief could not be held on the charge, a paper found upon him indicated that he is a person to be watched. He had a suspicious check upon the back of which was written a list of days which are considered by the "professionals" as unlucky, and upon which they will not operate. The bad dates—or rather the safe days for honest mortals—to come yet this year, are October 16th, and November 6th and 10th. The last one in this month was the 18th. It is a pity that all thieves are not superstitious, and that there are not more unlucky days in the year.

THE EXPOSITION.

The Welsh Wedding To-night—Balloon Ascension Yesterday.

The Welsh wedding comes off at the Exposition building this evening, and as matrimonial alliances are affairs in which nearly every body takes an interest a large crowd may be expected. Spectators had better be on hand by eight o'clock at the latest. Owing to the recent high water the cottage in the yard will not be made use of, as the interior is very damp, but instead the room adjoining the managers' office will be reserved for the bridal party. To-morrow evening a number of Welsh choral societies will be present, and together with the band will enliven the proceedings of the night. A grand march will take place at eight o'clock, led by the bride and groom, and followed up in the rear by all who desire to promenade.

The flood having subsided sufficiently to allow the gas pipes to rest on dry land, the balloon "City of Pittsburgh" was able to make her regular trip yesterday. Prof. Gilbert was accompanied by his assistant, W. O. Bates. It was the ninth voyage of the air-ship, and it began at 5:15 o'clock with a very close shave of one of the towers of the main building, but by a judicious and speedy handling of sand bags and a fish horn the tower was shaved. The Exposition buildings should be moved down the river a short distance, as they are often in the way of the balloon. If this warning is not heeded, a suit for obstructing the highway may follow. Allegheny is a pretty town—at long range. The base ball ground, Park and Penitentiary show to fine advantage. After traveling about ten miles in thirty-five minutes a descent was made, with the assistance of Mr. D. M. Gibson, on the farm of Mr. M. O'Byrne, at the mouth of Moon Creek, opposite Glendale, and a little above Ellanova. The balloon lit in the top of an oak tree, and was with difficulty prevented from being impaled on the trunk of a dead tree. It had to be towed half a mile through the swamp to the road, gathering followers as it went. In spite of maternal remonstrances Miss Ida McKenna accepted the Professor's very polite invitation to take a captive ascension, and was towed through an orchard. After partaking of cake and wine with Mr. O'Byrne the æronauts made a long trip over hills and through mud-holes, and finally reached the railroad track, upon which they were borne home.

The second piano recital last night by Prof. Mills drew the largest audience of the week.

THE COURT RECORD.

A Complete Record of the Proceedings in the Courts Yesterday.

U. S. District Court.

(Before Judge Ketcham.)

Burchfield & Paulin, bankrupts, city. Order made granting assignee leave to sell certain mortgages at private sale. Also, assignee's report of sale of certain real estate presented and confirmed nisi.

D. C. Eberhart and James Claybaugh, bankrupts, Blair county. On petition filed, said matters referred to Register Brotherline to report as to the validity of certain alleged liens on funds in hands of assignee.

Azariati Dunham, bankrupt, Somerset county; exceptions to Register's report upon the validity of liens, argued and decision reversed.

J. W. Kidney et al. vs the steamer Wm. Wagner. Commissioner appointed to distribute funds arising from sale of said steamer, presented report which was confirmed nisi.

Common Pleas No. 1.

(Before Judge Collier.)

In the matter of the account of John P. Kramer, agreement of parties was presented an an order was made directing distribution.

In the voluntary assignment of Henry Silverman, auditor's report was confirmed absolute, and assignee was directed to make distribution in accordance therewith.

Orphans' Court.

(Before Judge Hawkins.)

An opinion was rendered in the matter of the estate of Amelia Walker, deceased, in which the Court declined to allow the claims of J. S. Walker and W. S. Walker, that of the former being $225 and the latter five dollars. A decree of distribution was made.

In the matter of the estate of Joseph Bauer, deceased, an opinion was rendered on a question growing out of a claim for $1,271.20, presented by John Hildebrand, which amount, he alleged, he paid as surety for decedent, and is still due and unpaid. On the other hand, it was claimed that Hildebrand had funds belonging to the decedent sufficient to have paid the debt. Hildebrand swore that he had paid Bauer this money. The Court allowed the claim. A decree of distribution was made.

Decrees of distribution were made in the following cases: Final account of John R. Niebaum, executor of Charles Frederick Rust, deceased; final account of Joseph Spencer, executor of Rebecca Grindrod, deceased; final account of Charles Gilmore and Marry Curry, administrators of James Curry, deceased; final account of John F Wernke, administrator de bonis non cum testamento annexo of estate of Mary Fankmeier.

The audit list will be taken up this morning. Following is the list of accounts to be audited: Mrs. Fanny Barker, deceased, R. M. Davis cestui que trust; Mrs. Fanny Barker, deceased, W. B. Davis, cestui que trust; George McCormick; William Hess, minor; Nicholas Roth; P. Magee, Jr.; Elizabeth McBride; Peter McDonald; James Dunn; Susan Donnell.

Criminal Court.

(Before Judge Kirkpatrick.)

The first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Martin Welsh, indicted for the larceny of a gold ring and a garnet ring, on oath of Daisy Hutchinson. The prosecutrix is an inmate of a house of ill repute at 197 First avenue. On Sunday, the 10th of September, Jas. Haley and Martin Welsh entered the house where the prosecutrix stopped, and after remaining there a short time, the prosecutrix attempted to get them out of the house, and in doing so it is alleged the defendant, Welsh, pulled the rings from her fingers and ran away with them. Both he and Haley were arrested, but the Grand Jury ignored the bill as to Haley. It was in evidence that Welsh after his arrest admitted that he had taken the rings, but was willing to return one ring and pay for the other if the case should be discontinued. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The Court said that he would not quarrel with the jury about the verdict, but if he had been on the jury the verdict would have been different.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. G. L. Paine, indicted for larceny in having entered the Seventh Avenue Hotel on or about the 6th of last August, in which W. D Cochran was prosecutor. At the time stated the prosecutor who is a commercial traveler from New York, was stopping at the Hotel named and some time in the night he awoke and saw a man in his room whom he identified as the prisoner Payne. Payne who was also stopping at the house was subsequently arrested and money found on his person which answered the description of money taken from the prosecutor, who lost about $80 in money and a gold watch and chain valued in all at about $265. The day clerk of the hotel was also robbed of several dollars in money and a portion of the money found on the defendant answered the description of the money lost by the night clerk. After the jury had retired the court directed the assistant District Attorney to have the defendant indicted for burglary. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and the prisoner was remanded.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. Ed. Meenan, Joseph Geutt, John Collins, John Senor, Willie Taylor and F. H. Lemon indicted for breaking into a car of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and carrying away goods to the value of $150. It was charged that on or about the 6th of June last the defendants went to a car in the yard of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, on Liberty street, broke into a Union Line car and carried away a large amount of dry goods, some fifteen or twenty pieces of which were found in the possession of the defendants and were produced in court. On trial.

The Grand Jury returned a true bill against G. L. Paine for burglary in accordance with the directions of Judge Kirkpatrick, and the defendant was placed on trial. Mr. Moore, in the absence of Mr. Reardon, entered a plea of autrefois convict or former conviction, which the Court refused to admit, and the defendant was found guilty. The Court decided not to pass sentence in the case until the question raised by Mr. Moore could be argued and decided.

Commonwealth vs. William Dangerfield, indicted for assault and battery, on oath of Lydia Dangerfield, defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for ten days.

Commonwealth vs. Bab Taylor and John Drummond, indicted for felonious assault and battery, on oath of John Murphy, by consent of prosecutor nolle pros. entered on payment of costs by defendants.

Court Brevities.

JUDGE COLLIER, in Common Pleas No. 1, granted papers to a goodly number of applicants yesterday.

JUDGE KIRKPATRICK naturalized a number of persons yesterday after the adjournment of the Criminal Court.

L. M. PLUMER, ESQ., on motion of T. C. Leazure, Esq., was admitted to practice in the Courts of Common Pleas of this county.

WM. H. PRICE, ESQ., of Cumberland, Md., was on motion of A. H. Coffroth, of Somerset, Pa., admitted to practice in the U. S. District Court.

MR. J. G. MURRAY, who it will be remembered was elected to the office of County Treasurer last fall, and demanded the office of Major Kilgore, who refused to vacate, has his case ready for argument the coming term of the Supreme Court. His counsel, Messrs. Shiras and Acheson, inform him that they are very confident of a decision in his favor.

THE jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. L. W. Adams, previously reported, came into court at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, having been out for twenty-four hours, and stated to the Court that it was not probable they would agree, but asked for some instructions on some portions of the charge of the Court, and a short time to deliberate. Judge Kirkpatrick gave the required instructions, and said that he would meet them again at seven o'clock, when, if they could not agree, he would discharge them. The jury agreed upon a verdict at about six o'clock, and not desiring to wait an hour on the Court, the verdict was sealed. It will doubtless be not guilty.

THE P. B. CONVENTION.

Opinions of Gentlemen From Allegheny County.

At Wednesday's session of the State Convention of Poor Boards, held at Lancaster, President Cox read a paper in relation to "Tramps." The general debate was opened by the delegates from Allegheny county, who reported that the tramp bill was working elegantly and that tramps were always found on their way West, giving a "good bye" to Pennsylvania. Superintendent Bullock, of the Pittsburgh City Home, said that the only way they were able to get rid of the tramps was to close the doors upon them, and that no complaints had been made by the farmers within a radius of four or five miles. Alderman John M. Schaffer contended that it does not cost too much to have a tramp arrested. The first year it may cost a good deal, but after that it does not cost quite so much. Our tramp law is in some respects he thought too strict. Honest workingmen are often committed who should have been allowed their liberty.

R. D. McGonnigle, Secretary of the Allegheny Poor Board, read a paper upon the subject of "Children in Alms-houses." He said that the children, learning that the almshouses are for their support, after leaving the institution succumb to the first attack of adversity and return. Thus are reared criminals to infest society and an army of paupers to be supported by the public. It is "once in an almshouse, always in an almshouse." As the solution of the problem he recommended separate buildings in the shape of orphan asylums, and appropriate legislation.

A resolution presented by Superintendent Bullock calling the attention of Gov. Hartranft to the terrible evils resulting from keeping children in almshouses and requesting that he call the attention of our next Legislature to it, and ask that they take some action toward remedying the evil immediately, with power to prepare an act of assembly such as they think proper, was adopted.

PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE.

Proceedings of Yesterday's Session—Examination of Characters—Gossip About Appointments—Two Fine Sermons.

The second day's session of the Pittsburgh M. E. Conference commenced at half past eight o'clock yesterday morning in the Butler street church, and was opened with a half hour's religious service led by Rev. G. W. Cranage. After the journal had been read the routine business of the examination of character was commenced and the name of Rev. J. A. Miller, Presiding elder of West Pittsburgh district, was called, and his character was passed. Rev. Mr. Miller represented his district, and the names of the Elders in the district were then called, characters examined and passed. Conference then proceeded to consider the resolution offered on the previous day by the Rev. C. W. Smith requesting the Bishop if, in the arrangement of the work of the Conference he shall find it possible, to make four elders' districts instead of six. It being manifest that the paper as originally presented would create discussion, the author modified it and thereby cut off debate. It was then adopted.

The report from the Book Concern was read, and referred to the Committee on Books and Periodicals. The examination of character of the entire membership of Conference was taken up, and all were passed. Dr. Wheeler, of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate; C. O. Edmunds, of the Cincinnati Book Concern; C. E. Felton, a transfer from Rock River Conference; Jacob Brown, of Louisiana Conference, (formerly of Central German;) H. D. Fisher, of the Cincinnati Conference, and Rev. J. M. Thoburn, the missionary from India, were introduced. The latter made an affecting farewell address. He left on the noon train to resume the work in India upon which he has been so long engaged. The characters of candidates for Deacons of the second class were examined, and all were passed. The class of undergraduates closing their fourth year was taken up. The characters of all were passed, and they were elected to Elder's Orders.

Rev. E M Wood moved that the special order for to-day at ten o'clock be the constitutional question in regard to the number of delegates from the annual Conference to the General Conference. At the last session of the latter the pro rata was changed, and this action must be concurred in by the annual Conference. The motion was carried. Twelve o'clock having arrived Conference then adjourned until this morning.

Conference Notes.

An adjournment will probably not be reached before Monday evening.

The list of appointments for Sunday services will be published in the GAZETTE to-morrow morning.

The following have been elected officers of the Conference Missionary Society: President, Rev. M. B. Pugh; Vice Presidents, Rev. John A. Danks, Rev. J. H. Henry, Mr. T. H. Hershberger; Secretary, Rev. T. H. Wilkinson; Treasurer, Rev. J. Horner.

An interesting question that will probably come up to-day, and which was referred by the General Conference to the annual Conferences for a vote by each, is whether the Bishops shall be deprived of the power of arranging the Presiding Elders' districts, and the authority to do so conferred upon the annual Conferences.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. Wm. Taylor, widely known as "California Taylor," preached a discourse from the text, "I have found him of whom Moses and the prophets did write—Jesus of Nazareth." Mr. Taylor's acquaintance with the world is very large, his travels having extended to all quarters of the globe. The sobriquet noted above he earned by street preaching in California during the hard times of a good many years ago. He is well known as an able and gifted minister, and of course his remarks were pregnant with sound thought and marked by the breadth of view that so highly distinguishes those whose observations have been made among many peoples. Last night Dr. Hiram Miller, of Beaver, preached before a very large congregation a forcible and effective sermon from the text, "Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world."

The congregations in this city and Allegheny that must have new pastors are manifesting great interest in the deliberations of the Conference. The following changes will probably be made: Rev. Dr. B. F. Brooke, pastor of Christ church, will be transferred to the East Ohio Conference, and will be assigned to the First M. E. church of Cleveland, one of the finest churches, both as to the building and the congregation, in the Conference. Rev. Dr. Felton, of the Rock River, Ill., Conference, will be transferred to this Conference, and will be assigned to Christ Church. Rev. Dr. E. B. Snyder, the popular pastor of the North Avenue Church, Allegheny, will be transferred to Philadelphia and assigned to St. John's Church, of that city. It has a very large congregation, and a Sunday School of from six to seven hundred scholars. Rev. Dr. Langley, now pastor of St. John's Church, Philadelphia, will come to the North Avenue Church. Rev. Dr. S. H. Nesbit, Presiding Elder of the Allegheny District, will probably be given an appointment. There is talk of assigning him to the Arch Street Church, Allegheny, but that has not been definitely decided upon. In case he is, the present pastor, Rev. L. McGuire, will likely take his place in the district.

East Ohio Conference.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept 20, 1876.

This is the first session of this newly organized body, and has been looked forward to with intense interest. It is made up of the parts of "Pittsburgh" and "Erie" Conferences that extended into Ohio, and was pronounced yesterday by Bishop Ames, the presiding officer, in private conversation, as containing the finest territory of any Conference in the United States. Five full districts of the old Pittsburgh Conference remain in the new one, intact, with a ministerial representation of 135. Two full districts of the old Erie and parts of three others, fall within the bounds, with a representation of 119. The Conference convened in the "Kramer Chapel" church in this city. At nine o'clock this morning it was formally opened by singing and the administration of the Lord's Supper.

Dr. Trimble, of the Ohio Conference, and Dr. Thoburn, Missionary to India, were introduced.

By ballot Rev. J. R. Mills, D. D., was elected Secretary. He chose as his assistants Revs. J. P. Mills, L. A. Pearce and R. F. Keeler. The Bishop in a touching manner, referred to the death of Bishop Janes, senior Bishop of the M. E. church. A committee of three was appointed to draft a paper of condolence.

A committee of five was appointed to examine into the needs and the claims of the superannuated and supernumerary preachers, with a view to strike from the list all those who have regained their formerly shattered health, and all those who are making a handsome competency, in pursuing some secular calling, and yet plead to retain their membership. A wise and opportune thing.

All the standing committees were appointed.

It is pleasing to note that the distinctions of Erie and Pittsburgh, North and South, seem to be lost sight of—they look, and talk, and act as one household.

Dr. J. M. Thoburn, the returned Missionary, preaches to-night.

AMICUS, JR.

AUTREFOIS CONVICT.

Can a Prisoner be Convicted Twice for the Same Offense Under Different Names.

A case of more than ordinary interest was tried in the Criminal Court yesterday, in which a plea seldom made was put in by the defendant, and which was disposed of in what seems to us to be a rather unusual manner. G. L. Paine was indicted for larceny, on oath of a Mr. Cochran, a guest at the Seventh Avenue Hotel, this city, who testified that his room had been entered and he had been robbed of $80 in money and a gold watch chain and other articles, and he identified the defendant as the man who was in his room. He was placed on trial, and after the jury had retired the Court directed the Assistant District Attorney to present a bill to the Grand Jury, charging him with burglary, stating that the first indictment should have charged that offense instead of larceny. The grand jury found a true bill and returned it to court before the jury deliberating upon the charge of larceny had returned a verdict. The Court ordered Paine on trial, and, in the absence of his counsel, W. D. Moore, Esq., took charge of the case and entered a plea of autrefois convict, or former conviction, which the Court refused to receive. The question arises whether the Court has a right to reject any legitimate plea, and whether it is not an issue to be determined by a jury. If a prisoner refuses to plead, and "stands dumb," the court may direct that a plea of not guilty be entered, and that he be placed upon trial, but whether a plea of former conviction, which is a legitimate plea, where there is grounds for it, does not raise an issue, which the court cannot treat as a mere motion or offer, is a question to be decided. If the prisoner has been on trial for the offense, and either convicted or acquitted under the law he cannot be placed upon trial for the same offense again, no matter whether that offense be called by another name or not, and this defendant having entered a plea of former conviction, does it not raise an issue of fact which must be determined by a jury. He alleges that he has been once convicted for the offense for which he is indicted, and the commonwealth joins issue with him, that is denies the fact alleged or assertion by the plea. Can the court summarily dispose of a matter of fact as though it were a question of law? The court so held and the case was tried and a verdict of guilty returned, but it was intimated by his Honor that sentence would be suspended until the matter could be argued by counsel and decided, when, if decided that the plea was admissable, the verdict would be set aside.

A Closing Out Sale.

The stock in the store of the late H. Perry, at Wood street and Diamond alley, is being closed out at private sale, and those who wish to secure bargains during the present week should not fail to attend. Mr. P. had an extensive trade for his own make of boots and shoes, and those who would have no others will be interested in the announcement that boots worth from $16 to $18 will be sold for $8 and $10, and shoes at half price. All the goods are custom-made, which is a sufficient guarantee of their superior quality.

BREVITIES.

Paragraphic Pencilings of Passing Events.

····The rifle shooting at Creedmoor has created a desire for similar sport here.

····The passenger traffic of the Pennsylvania railroad is greater now than it was during active war times.

····Work has been resumed on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, and it will be completed as far as Brownsville about Christmas.

····Many of the Washington county farmers along the line of the proposed extension of the Castle Shannon railroad are warmly in favor of the project.

····Jacob Gibb, the conductor who was crushed under a train near Mineral Point, on Monday, died Wednesday from his injuries. The remains were taken to Altoona for interment.

····It is thought that the school children's excursion to the Centennial will not take place. The committee were not able to get better rates than $5 for the round trip for teachers and parents.

····Ed. Powell, of the Columbia Boat club, is in the city to try and make arrangements for accepting the challenge of Felsinger, of Wheeling, to row for $300 a side. Felsinger is the champion of Wheeling.

····Bradley McKinley, son of Mr. D. E. McKinley, of Sewickley, attempted to board a train passing that place on Wednesday afternoon when he fell beneath the cars and one of his feet was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated.

····A special telegram published in the GAZETTE yesterday morning, predicted the death of Major P. A. Johns, Postmaster at Uniontown, which has since occurred. Jaundice, from which he had been ailing for several months, was the cause of it.

····A. F. Vanvoorhis, convicted of forgery, and Franklin Smith, convicted of bigamy in the Criminal Court of Fayette county, were committed to the Penitentiary yesterday, the former for four and the latter for two years. James Beeson went to the Workhouse for nine months for surety of the peace.

····A party of Sharpsburg youths and maidens went out to a ball at Stewartstown the other evening. They had a rousing time, and each individual masculine member of the party came back with black eyes, a broken nose, and in a dilapidated condition generally. It is needless to say the festivities ended with a row.

····In 1856 the average annual cost of a pupil in the common schools of this city was $9 04, and the average salary of a teacher was $360.50. In 1875 the former had increased to $18.74, and the latter to $614.51. Notwithstanding this heavy increase in both respects there are but few, doubtless, who would exchange the schools of to-day for those of twenty years ago.

····Morris and Scharff are both training for their race. It is said that Scharff was never in better condition than at present. Morris has made the second deposit, and will make the final one in abundance of time. It is thought that the course selected will be the one just below Lock No. 2, and nearly opposite Homestead. The race will in all probability be the most exciting one ever rowed in this neighborhood.

····R. M. Sibbett, editor of the Connellsville Tribune, was arrested yesterday by Officer Chisholm, of Uniontown, and placed under bail in the sum of $500, on charges preferred by T. B. Schnatterly, Esq., for libel. Mr. Schnatterly is one of the Democratic candidates for Assembly in Fayette county, and last week the Tribune very severely criticised the course he pursued when in the Legislature a few years ago.

····An event occurred in Mansfield Wednesday evening which has set all the gossips' tongues wagging with renewed vigor. A young lady of the place was to have been married at half-past seven to a young man from Dennison, who had been her constant attendant for over a year. She and her friends repaired to 'Squire McQuilty at the appointed time and waited patiently for an hour or two. It being then evident that the bridegroom was not coming, the wedding was postponed. It is said the girl had not heard from her lover for five weeks, but had confidence that he would keep his promise. And, Griselda like, she still waits and believes.

····An accident occurred at Kloman's mill, Twelfth ward, about seven o'clock Wednesday evening, resulting in the death of Chas. Zin, an employe. He had gone to the water bucket which stands near the fly wheel, to get a drink and was found about half an hour afterwards with his left arm crushed and his skull fractured. He was still breathing when found and arrangements were made for sending him to the St. Franciscus Hospital, but before the hospital was reached he was dead. The Coroner was notified and empanelled a jury, and after viewing the body the inquest adjourned until half-past seven o'clock this evening.

····Chief Hartzell received a dispatch yesterday from Thomas Clark, a detective of Osceola Mills, Clearfield county, stating that a couple of supposed thieves had been arrested there, and inquiring about them. The two gave their names as James and Thomas Martin. When they were searched at the jail it was found that James was a girl, dressed in men's clothing. She is about seventeen years old, good looking, with red hair. They said they had tramped all the way from Pittsburgh, and refused to give further account of themselves. On the man was found three silver watches, several articles of jewelry, an express receipt for two valises shipped at Canton, Ohio, for Reading, Pa., and a pardon setting forth that Thomas Martin, sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for three years for larceny, had been pardoned May 8th, 1876. Chief Hartzell thinks that they were engaged in the late robberies in Canton, and the two valises referred to contained the plunder which they had succeeded in obtaining.

PERSONAL.

Lieut. A. M. Fuller, of the Second United States Cavalry, who has been at home with his parents in Uniontown, has gone to join his regiment, in Crook's command.

Rev. Alfred Wheeler, editor of the Christian Advocate, of this city, is a cousin of Hon. Wm. A. Wheeler, Republican candidate for Vice President of the United States.

Col. Phaon Jarrett, who organized Camp Wilkins, in this city, at the beginning of the war, died recently at his home in Lock Haven, of congestion of the brain. He was well known in this city.

Mrs. Little, wife of the late John Little, and mother-in-law of Henry Warner, Esq., County Controller, died on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of the latter, in Sewickley, in the eighty-fifth year of her age. She leaves a large and valuable estate.

Our old time townsman and friend Leckey Harper, Esq., editor of the Mt. Vernon, O., Democratic Banner, is visiting his friends in this city. He is in fine health and clever and generous as ever, despite his persistent Democracy. He must have had a strong constitution.

A CITY DEPOSITORY.

The Condition of the United Savings Bank.

Some two or three weeks ago, it will be remembered, rumors were current in the city that the United Savings Bank, of this city, one of the city depositories, was in an unhealthy condition, and likely to close its doors. The matter was quieted, and no more thought of it until a day or two ago, when the old rumors of irregularities were revived and assumed more definiteness. It is now stated upon the authority of Mr. A. C. Silverman, who was until recently Vice President of the bank, that the troubles under which it is laboring arose from the fact that Mr. N. P. Sawyer, President, has drawn from its vaults some $80,000, upon paper which is mostly inadequately secured. Of this amount $33,000 is entirely unsecured. Mr. Sawyer is now East endeavoring to effect a loan to make good his discounts. The stockholders, it is said, have concluded to wind up the affairs of the banks, and the Board of Directors will shortly proceed to that business. A meeting of the Directors was to have been held yesterday to look into matters, but there was not a quorum present, and nothing was done.

The city now has a deposit in the institution of $140,000. On the first of the month there was $203,000 of the city's money in the bank, but since then $63,000 has been checked out. The city, as has before been stated, would lose nothing in any event, as the securities are ample. But it is confidently believed that the bank is not only able pay all liabilities in full, but will have a surplus after doing so. The individual deposits are reported to be no more than $3,500.

It must be added that Mr. Brown, cashier of the bank, says that there is no intention of closing the bank, and declares it to be perfectly solvent, notwithstanding there have been heavy losses. Payment has not yet been refused on any checks presented.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

An Alleged Embezzler Shoots Himself After Arrest—A. C. Henne, the Recusant Witness, in Trouble—The Wound Probably Fatal.

A case of attempted suicide of somewhat more than usual interest took place on Smithfield street last evening.

The readers of the GAZETTE will remember that during the session of the Legislative Investigating Committee in this city last winter, Mr. A. C. Henne, one of the witnesses called before the committee, refused to testify, and was committed to jail for contempt. He had been confidential bookkeeper for the firm of Wm. Smith & Co., and it was thought that he could give some very important testimony in relation to that firm's connection with the Nation Trust Company. After he was arrested as a recusant witness he refused to give bail, choosing to go to jail instead, and make a martyr of himself as well as a case for damages for false arrest and imprisonment in a civil action. The martyr part of the business didn't amount to as much as he expected, people thinking instead that he was acting somewhat foolishly. After an imprisonment of two or three weeks he was released upon bail. Upon the charge against him he has never been tried yet, and his talk of suit for damages has not resulted in filing of papers in the case, if he ever took any steps in that direction. His name had passed out of the mind of the public, and he would perhaps have been forgotten but for the tragedy that occurred yesterday.

Mr. Henne has been for some months past agent for the Union Brewery, of this city, Messrs. Straub & Ludwig, proprietors. During this agency it is alleged he embezzled in the neighborhood of $500 from his employers. Yesterday Mr. Valentine Ludwig, of the firm, made information before 'Squire Rummell, of the Sixteenth ward, charging Mr. Henne with the offense stated. He was arrested by constables Wilmot and Metz, and after a hearing he was required to give bail in $1,800 for trial at Court. In company with officer Metz he started down town to hunt bail. At the corner of Penn avenue and Eleventh street they got out of the car, Mr. Henne desiring to see Mr. Sol. Schoyer, whom he expected to get on his bail bond. Not finding him they came on down town. As they were passing the "What's in a Name" saloon of Wenzell & Porter, on Smithfield street, almost opposite City Hall, Henne asked permission to stop a minute. The officer went in with him, and Henne passed right on through into the water closet. He had been in there but a moment or two when the officer heard something like the snapping of the hammer of a pistol. He thought it was the latch of the door and paid no attention to it. In a moment after he heard the same sound and concluded it best to investigate the case. He had just opened the door, when the revolver was discharged, and Henne fell back into his arms.

The wounded man was, without delay, carried up stairs into a room of the dwelling above and Drs. McKelvy and Estep summoned. It was then discovered that the ball had entered the left breast, passing very near the heart, and producing a wound which will in all likelihood prove fatal. After the wound was properly dressed, the man was conveyed to the West Penn Hospital, where he now lies.

Mr. Henne is a young man, not being over twenty-five or twenty-six years of age, and is unmarried. He is a person of fine form and address, respectably connected, and had been generally esteemed by all who knew him. He acknowledged to different persons as long ago as three weeks that he had used some money of the firm, but claimed that he has done so in order to advance the interests of his employers. He was willing to repay it, however, if they demanded it, so soon as he was able to do so. The matter has been preying on his mind very severely during the past few days. In conversation with some friends in Mr. Schoyer's office yesterday, before his arrest, he mentioned that he had never drank any until he went into the brewery business, and that it had ruined him, as he had been drunk almost constantly for two or three months past. Whether or not this was intended to be an excuse for his conduct in view of the exposure that he knew was imminent, or whether it was really the case and the cause of his embezzlement, the public will have to judge by further evidence than that obtained last evening.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

CLARK CRAVENER had a hearing before Deputy Mayor Butler yesterday and was committed for trial to answer for stealing a watch from Thomas Morgan, of the South Side on the 24th of last August.

MRS. MARY ANDERSON was released from the Work-house Wednesday, a sixty-day sentence having expired. She got drunk the same evening, and was yesterday sent back for another sixty days.

THOS. EGGOLI was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman Hoerr in default of bail for his appearance at court to answer a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife. The parties reside on Mary street, South Side.

MRS. ROGERS' boarding house, on Main street, Thirty-sixth ward, was robbed on Wednesday night by burglars, who effected an entrance by a rear window. Frank Martin, a boarder, from Steubenville, was the heaviest loser, he having a watch and $70 in money taken.

DURING a fight out Penn avenue yesterday, James Manger bit Harry Welsh's thumb. An information for mayhew was made before Deputy Mayor King and the defendant arrested. He retorted with a charge for assault and battery, and now both are firmly bound for Court.

JOHN COOK and Alexander Greaver, two dead-beats, practiced a new game Wednesday evening to get their drinks. They had a number of copper cents carefully polished, to look like quarters, and after taking their drink, would throw one of them on the counter. If the barkeeper called their attention to the fact that the money was not sufficient, they grew indignant at once, declaring they had given him the proper sum, call bystanders to bear witness to it, and then walk out. After practicing the game a number of times they were arrested and yesterday morning fined three dollars and costs each.

We Regret to Notice

the attempts on the part of certain parties to compromise the distinguished pianist, S. B. Mills, by a dishonorable use of his name in a connection that any honorable man would have scorned to descend to. Mr. S. Hamilton, through whose efforts and very largely at whose expense, Mr. Mills was secured, not as an advertisement, as he might have done, but in the cause of art, brought him here as an artiste, and not as an advertising tail to Decker's kite.

But while here the parties referred to, either in the hope that they might revive their drooping business a little, or what seems more likely, to cast a reflection on the fair name of Mr. Mills by compromising him and involving him in two statements, the parties referred to knowing that Mr. Mills had given the Decker Bros. a most flattering testimonial dated June 2nd, 1876, while the testimonial published by the parties referred to was given to Mr. Steinway over eight years ago. We leave our readers to draw their own conclusions, and we imagine that the purchasing public are satisfied with the merits of the relative pianos, as the trade of the Decker Bros.' agent in this city is about double that of any other piano dealer.

Drugs, Medicines and Chemicals.

It is within the experience of almost every person that having a prescription to be filled, requiring care and discretion in the choice and ratio of the ingredients, they have placed it before the druggist with a feeling of timidity, arising from a lack of confidence in the skill of him who should combine the different drugs in proper proportion. To all such we can confidently commend the drug and prescription house of Simon Johnston, corner of Third avenue and Smithfield street, as his stock of drugs and medicines are pure and genuine, and his assistants are skilled, experienced, competent and circumspect. His stock is always the freshest and best to be obtained, and of a character so varied as to embrace everything in the line of a well-stocked drug and prescription store. A very elegant assortment of imported perfumes and toilet soaps always in stock.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Paragraphs of Interest to Manufacturers.

THE glass house of Mr. G. W. Wells, Brownsville, is in operation again.

THE Shenango Furnace Company, Middlesex, blew in their second furnace a few days ago.

THE sales of pig iron and iron ore in this market last week were much larger than for a considerable period previously.

MACHINERY arrived at Lemont, Fayette county, last week for the incline to be built above the furnace at the limestone quarry.

MESSRS. HUSSEY, BINNS & CO. are making a new style of grain scoop which is an improvement over the old riveted strap scoop.

THE rolling mill of Jacobs & Jackson, Brownsville, is running day and night. They make all kinds of bar, pipe iron and light T rails.

THE Standard Oil Company, Cleveland, is crowded with business, and has lately made a general increase of the wages of their employes.

MESSRS. EMERSON, FORD & CO., Beaver Falls, are erecting a new hammer shop, 140 feet in length. It is a very substantial stone building.

THE window glass works of R. C. Schmertz, at Belle Vernon, started up last week, the new arrangement being accepted by the employes.

THE extensive mills of Zug & Co. are now running full, with twenty-two puddling furnaces in the large mill single turn, and twelve furnaces in the nail mill double turn.

ONE of the newest enterprises in our city is the establishment of the McKim Manufacturing Company. This firm is engaged in making patent measures, manufactured of sheet iron, with wood bottoms.

THE Union Chain & Cable Company has added largely to its machinery, and is receiving large orders for chains. The welding process in use by this company has thus far proved very successful both in quality and in the ease and rapidity of doing the work.

SO FAR we can see no increase in the trade of our rolling mills on account of the approach of the fall season. The sheet mills of our city look for an increase about this time. Their expectations are only partially met this season. Those that are now busy have been so for some few weeks.

MR. E. SAVAGE, of West Meriden, Conn., has been engaged for some weeks in erecting his gas burning furnaces for the use of the Beaver Falls Cutlery Works. They can be used for either natural gas or coal as fuel, and are wonderfully adapted to the various processes required for hardening, tempering, annealing and treating the cutlery in its various stages.

THERE are now three gas producing wells at Beaver Falls, one of which has been in operation over seventeen years. Two of the wells are nearly 1100 feet in depth, one having been reamed out, and is said to produce about 100,000 feet per day, which is utilized in the cutlery works, except what is used in the gas lighting works, where it supplies about 60 per cent. of what is used. The other old well is to be bored out to eight inches. The third well is recently bored and struck a good vein of gas at 500 feet. This well is to be cased twelve inches, with a small tube inside to continue the boring to a greater depth, while the present product of gas, which is much greater than the other wells, can be utilized. It is proposed to go down 2,500 feet if need be, to test the lower strata for gas or oil.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Local Political Notes—Doings in and About the Cities.

The Republican marching clubs west of the Smithfield street bridge, South Side, were organized into a division Wednesday evening for the campaign. Major Felix C. Negley was elected Chief Marshal, and will announce his aids and staff previous to the first demonstration in which the division will participate.

A meeting was held at Woodville, on the Chartiers Valley Railroad, last night. There was a large gathering. The marching clubs of Mansfield, and the Sodom and Negley's troop were present. The meeting was addressed by Major Russell Errett, J. F. Slagle and John S. Robb, Esqs. The Republicans of that district are thoroughly aroused and completely organized for the campaign.

The statement that the Sewickley club marched past a Democratic assemblage in that borough with an intent to interrupt the proceedings is untrue. The fact was that this club, after marching through the town, but not near the Tilden pole raising assembly, decided to disband for the night, so that those who wished to could hear the speeches of Messrs. Cochrane and others, but were forbidden to wear their uniforms and were requested to keep the best of order, which they did.

The W. J. Matthew's Glee Club will meet at the Republican Headquarters at 7½ o'clock this evening.

The County Republican Executive Committee will meet this afternoon.

The Second ward Glee Club will practice at the Republican headquarters this evening.

There will be a grand Republican rally this evening at Odd Fellows Hall, Eighteenth street South Side. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. Ed. McPherson, J. F. Slagle, Esq., and Hon. Russell Errett.

The captains of all the Republican marching clubs of the county are called to meet at headquarters on Monday evening next to arrange for torchlight demonstrations in several districts.

The officers of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Eighteenth ward marching clubs, met at the wigwam, on Forty-third street last evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a battalion and electing field officers.

A large meeting of the Republicans of Troy Hill, Allegheny, was held last evening at Charles Gosttman's on Return street. The meeting was called to order by John Bollen and the following officers were elected: President, Henry F. Eggers; Vice Presidents, Martin Lappe, Wm. Hoedle, John Diehl, Fred. Beilstein, James Dewhurst, J. Beckert, Wm. Neeb, John Voegtly, R. Steichleder, S. Schofield, Charles Goettman, George F. Peters, N. Baiber, Henry Steinbock, Samuel Haberstock, Wm. Jenkinson, R. Campbell, Wm. Wettach, Hugh McNeill. Secretaries: John Bollen, Adam Stork, Henry Voelker.

Hon. H. H. McCormick was then introduced and made an interesting address.

He was followed by Mr. N. Raiber and Col. A. Blakely.

A number of the Republican marching clubs were on hand.
